

GOVERNOR NASH LENDS AID TO COLUMBIANA OFFICIALS

Moves to Secure Accommodations For More Epileptic Patients.

PARTY TICKETS ON FILE

Prohibitionists and Socialist Labor People Announce Nominations Made.

THIS COUNTY SHOWS UP STRONG

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 2.—Although Columbiana county now has more than her regular quota of patients at the Ohio hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis, through the instrumentality of Governor Nash, an arrangement has been perfected whereby additional patients from this county will be admitted to the institution. There are now 16 patients from Columbiana county at the hospital, and the county's quota is 14. Five other applications are pending and will be accepted. Probate Judge Boone, of Lisbon, presented these applications to Dr. Coleman, superintendent of the institution, and the latter replied that no more patients would be received from Columbiana county while its quota remained full. Judge Boone, nothing daunted, wrote Governor Nash, soliciting his aid in the case. The governor communicated with Superintendent Coleman, who stated that, as there are a number of counties with only partial quotas at the hospital, that additional patients would be taken from Columbiana county on the condition, however, that in the event of these counties demanding the admission of the full number of patients, as limited by the law, all extra patients from Columbiana county be withdrawn. The next legislature will be asked to make an appropriation to provide additional buildings for the care of epileptic and insane patients. In almost every infirmary in the state there are such patients, and there is only room for a limited number in the state institutions.

A petition with upwards of 12,000 names was filed with the secretary of state today by Chairman J. J. Ashenbush, of this city, of the Prohibition party, and application made for a place for the party on the state ticket. Under the law the party needs 10,500 signatures. At the last regular election the Prohibitionists failed to secure the number of votes requisite to get on the state ballot without petition. Both Stark and Columbiana county responded generously to the call for signatures, and without their help it might have been impossible for the party to secure representation on the official ballot this year. Stark contributed 912 signatures and Columbiana 585, which is more than was furnished by any other two counties. John Danner, of Canton, engineered the canvass for signatures in Stark county. E. D. Salkeld, of Steubenville, had charge of the work of securing signatures in Columbiana county. He is one of the Prohibition candidates for state senator in his district. Mahoning county gave the party exactly 75 signatures. Volney B. Cushing, the Prohibition orator from Maine, who has already spoken several times in the Eighteenth district, will remain in the state until the end of the campaign. The cold water adherents are not done with the Eighteenth district yet. Clinton N. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., founder of the Prohibition Union of Christian Men, a noted orator, is booked for four speeches in Columbiana county this month. East Liverpool is on the list.

The Socialist Labor party has applied to Secretary of State L. C. Laylin for a place on the official ticket. A petition made up of 244 smaller ones is also filed with an aggregate of 11,725 signatures, the statutory requirement for a place on the state ticket being 10,490 signatures. The ticket follows: For governor, Harry C. Thompson, Cincinnati; lieutenant governor, Michael J. Hynes, Dayton; treasurer of state, John Freudenthal, Toledo; attorney general, John G. Wilbert, Cleveland; members of board of public works, John F. Flynn, Canton; judge of supreme court, E. Howard Randall,

Springfield, clerk of the supreme court, Peter Frann, Portsmouth. W. G. Critchlow, of Dayton, is secretary of the party's executive committee.

Articles of agreement of consolidation have been filed with the secretary of state by the Akron and Barberton Belt Line railway company and the Akron South Side Belt Line company, the capital stock being placed at $25,000. The backers of the consolidated concern are the gentlemen who have during the past six or eight months incorporated the lines which, if built, will utilize about all the unoccupied space in central and eastern Ohio.

The officers of the new company are Charles W. French, Mansfield, president; C. D. Crouch, Akron, vice president; V. A. Dehnell, Mansfield, secretary; Hugh A. Holmes, Detroit, treasurer; W. W. Pope, Akron, auditor. The directory is composed of all the officers excepting the treasurer and C. E. Hurd, of Akron. Akron is headquarters.

The state board of railway equalization met yesterday and decided it has no authority to increase the total aggregate of taxation as returned by county auditors. This is contrary to the position taken by Tom Johnson, who argued that the board possessed this power in his demand that taxation on railroads be increased. The attorney general's ruling is to the effect that the board's duties are to equalize, not to appraise and raise values as affecting the total aggregate of taxation as returned by county auditors. He defines the law as indicating that the board is alone vested with the right to equalize. Johnson may invoke the assistance of the courts to enforce the relief prayed for.

A press dispatch announces that a number of Ohio men are made beneficiaries in a will made by William Henry Harrison Smith, a wealthy railroad man who died at Syracuse, N. Y., leaving a fortune of $100,000. The will was read Monday. Most of the estate goes to the widow, Albert G. Smith, of Lisbon, is a brother of the deceased, and will receive $2,000. Mr. Smith is a carpenter. About $10,000 will be divided among Ohio heirs.

J. W. Young, of Wellsville, until recently a resident of East Liverpool, was in Columbus yesterday.

LOVERS FALL OUT

"Bado" Hogue And Maggie Malone Were the Participants—Both Lodged in Jail.

Church alley was the scene of a disturbance yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the arrest of "Bado" Hogue and Maggie Malone, both of whom were fined this morning for disorderly conduct and committed to the workhouse. Hogue, however, succeeded in paying his assessment, but Miss Malone was not so fortunate and is yet taking her meals at Chief Thompson's hostelry.

The couple was arrested at about the supper hour. The chief was attracted to the Malone domicile, and neighbors in the community were startled by the screams of the young woman, who was undergoing a beating and which was being administered by Hogue, who lays claim to Maggie's affections. When the officer reached the scene the female was about "all in," and her admirer was just putting another coat of purple on one of her eyes when he was taken in hand.

With no little difficulty the chief got the pair started to the jail and only by threats to use the handcuffs did he save himself further trouble. When taken before the mayor both pleaded guilty as charged and expressed sorrow for their actions. Maggie's visage much resembles a roll of country sausage.

WELSH-MALEY

Well Known Young Couple Married at St. Aloysius' Catholic Church.

Hugh Maley and Miss Lizzie Welsh were united in marriage at St. Aloysius' church by Father Mahon yesterday at 6:30 o'clock. They have many friends in this city.

They left on the afternoon train for a wedding tour to Buffalo, after which they will go to housekeeping in this city.

UNDER ARREST AS DEFAULTER

W. E. Hutchinson Accused of Embezzling $6,500 Funds in His Care.

SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

The Accused a Former Property Owner of This City, Where He Was Married—Found in Chicago Under an Assumed Name.

W. E. Hutchinson, who once owned property in this city and who was married here, is in trouble in Chicago. His father, a former saloon keeper, is still a resident of this city. Hutchinson married Emma, daughter of T. M. Bennett, in this city. His wife died some years ago, and a case is now pending in the courts of this county for the sale of the lot in which she is buried in Riverview cemetery.

Hutchinson formerly owned property opposite Columbian park in this city and started his father in the saloon business. His home was in Pittsburgh. All his property here was afterward sold except the cemetery lot. The story of his arrest and its cause is told in the following dispatch from Pittsburgh:

"Word was received in Pittsburgh last night from Chicago that W. E. Hutchinson, known under the alias, 'G. S. Edwards,' was arrested by Chicago Detectives Bock and De Soss on a charge of embezzling $6,500 from the German National Building & Loan Association of Pittsburgh three years ago. Hutchinson was working as a stenographer for H. N. Coolidge & Co., of 135 Lake street, under the name of Edwards. He feigned innocence at first, but confessed on the road to the police station. Detective W. J. Morris, of this city, secured possession of Hutchinson on requisition papers and he will arrive today with his prisoner.

"About three years ago O. P. Cochran, one of the Pennsylvania state bank examiners, began an examination of the books of the German association, considered one of the strongest and most prosperous associations in western Pennsylvania. It paid 8 per cent dividends and Hutchinson was implicitly trusted as the secretary. During the examination several hazy transactions were discovered and Secretary Hutchinson was quickly asked for an explanation. The hazy items multiplied to such an extent that a supposed shortage of $800 was discovered. Hutchinson then disappeared, officials of the association shielding him at the time by giving out that he had merely been ill and had gone on a vacation. He was traced by outsiders interested to East Liverpool, and then all traces and memory of the man were lost.

"So implicit was the confidence of the association officials in Hutchinson that they refused to believe that his accounts were not as they should have been, and Banking Examiner Cochran finally reported to the directors a supposed shortage of $6,500, which the directors were compelled to mark off on their stock.

"It was generally supposed that the building and loan association officials had forgotten Hutchinson, but word reached them a few days ago that he was working in Chicago and had been working there for a year. The Chicago police were asked to co-operate and Detective Morris was sent to find the man and bring him to Pittsburgh. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest and he was captured easily. He was considered trustworthy by the employers and went to them highly recommended.

"Hutchinson lived on Lawn street while here and was said to have been extravagant, although his salary was only $1,500 a year. His alleged defalcations and his sudden departure formed sensations at the time, although the officials made vigorous denials for a long time."

Licensed to Marry.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Marriage licenses have been issued as follows: David A. McKernan and Edna B. Ebert, East Liverpool; Henry L. Abraham and Grace I. Suttle, Dunganon; Herman L. Gray, of Hanover township, and Florence E. Mountz, North Georgetown; Park L. Kudler, of Columbiana, and Teresa Longnecker, Leetonia; Frank Falkenberg, Salem, and Grace Zimmerman, Lisbon; Devern Coburn and Mary Crawford, East Liverpool; Edwin J. Green and Jessie L. Estill, Salem.

CHARGED WITH WIFE BEATING

BEFORE JUSTICE M'LANE

Sherwood Pleaded Guilty, But Sentence Was Suspended—Davis Will Contest His Case And Gave $300 Bond for Trial.

Two alleged wife beaters were arrested last night and given hearings in Justice McLane's court. Frank Sherwood, proprietor of a Broadway dyeing establishment, and who was fined a few days ago in the mayor's court for disorderly conduct, was one of the accused men. The affidavit which caused the man's arrest last night was filed by his wife.

Constable Miller arrested Sherwood at about 9 o'clock at his home. He was taken immediately before the justice, when he pleaded guilty as charged. As Mrs. Sherwood was not present at the hearing and as the magistrate did not know the extent of her injuries, he suspended sentence until an investigation of the case can be made.

At about the same time that Constable Miller brought Sherwood into court Constable Powell also appeared with J. W. Davis, the other man accused of wife beating. Mrs. Davis filed the affidavit and her husband was arrested at his home on Union street. The woman's face bore evidence of having been badly bruised and scratched and at the time the attack is said to have taken place, her screams aroused all the neighbors in the community of her home.

Davis pleaded not guilty to the charge and was placed under bond of $300 to appear for trial on next Tuesday evening.

ON A COAL CAR

A Culmination of Trouble in the Family of George Crawford.

It is likely that the domestic unpleasantness existing in the family of George Crawford, of Gardendale, will find its way into the courts once more.

Yesterday Mrs. Crawford, who alleges many things, and who was in a local justice's court last week with her troubles, determined to leave her husband, and return to the home of her mother. She took her little daughter and left the home at Gardendale, making her way on foot to the city. The husband is a teamster and happened to be delivering a load of coal in the hill district when his wife appeared. He left his team standing and started in pursuit of the runaway wife, overtaking her after a long chase. The wife was deprived of the child and permitted to go her way. Some time had been spent in the chase, and Crawford's employer was compelled to send out another man to look after the team. Crawford returned to his work, taking the child with him, and finished the day's work. The little one did not present a very neat appearance when the coal hauling was finished, but the father had triumphed and is determined to retain possession of his child.

GUARDIANS NAMED

For East Liverpool Minors to Look After Their Property.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—John S. McNutt, of Lisbon, has been appointed guardian ad litem of Olive Huston, a minor of East Liverpool, and appraisers have been appointed to determine the value of real estate to which she is an heir.

J. F. McGarry has been appointed guardian ad litem of Mary, Rosalia, Ruth and Agnes De Temple, minors of East Liverpool.

BROKE HIS RIBS

Expressman Frank Johnson Badly Injured By a Fall in His Stable.

Frank Johnson, expressman, fell through the mow of his barn on Eighth street and was severely injured.

Mr. Johnson had gone to the upper portion of his stable to put down a quantity of hay for the horses. He had almost completed the task when he stepped upon a loose board and fell to the floor below. Mr. Johnson alighted upon his right side, breaking two ribs and receiving other injuries. He was assisted to his home nearby and a physician summoned. It was found that one of the injured man's ribs had been broken loose from the spine, and the other injuries were of a very severe nature. He will not be able to work for several days.

TWO STOLEN HORSES

RESTORED TO THEIR OWNERS BY THE LOCAL POLICE.

The Men Who Hired the Rigs Are Not Yet in Custody.

Through the efforts of Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson, two horses stolen have been located and are now in the hands of their rightful owners. J. P. Pearce, of Damascus, owned one of the horses, which he recovered last night from Sid Starkey, and D. I. Miller, a Sebring liveryman, procured the other this morning at Ray's stable.

The Damascus horse was hired by a young man, whose name is said to be Buzzard. Starkey bought the horse from Buzzard in this city a few days ago, paying $8 in cash and also giving a pistol worth about $8 for the animal. Starkey did not know of the theft until Chief Thompson went to his stable to look at the horse.

Pearce was notified of the find and came to East Liverpool with Constable McArter, also of Damascus. The animal was at once identified and taken home. The police have not yet located Buzzard, but his arrest, it is believed, will shortly follow.

The Sebring horse was hired last Friday night by a man giving the name of Ollie Bittner, and who claimed to be a potter. He agreed to return the rig the same night, but since that time nothing was heard of it until Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson learned of a strange horse and buggy found at the Croft farm. The animal had been driven into a field and allowed to run at large until found by one of the farm hands. The mayor and chief brought the rig to this city and placed it in Ray's barn, where the owner identified it this morning.

Nothing is known concerning the identity of Bittner, and it is thought that at the time he hired the horse he gave liveryman Miller a fictitious name. There were no rewards offered for either of the missing animals, and hence, their owners are fortunate in finding them as they did.

GRAND JURY REPORT

Not Yet Ready—Petit Jury Dismissed Until Monday.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Common pleas petit jury was dismissed today by County Clerk John S. McNutt, Judge Hole being absent, until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The grand jury is still in session, and will report tomorrow or Friday. The following civil cases have been disposed of in common pleas:

George Wilshaw et al vs. Ellen M. O'Connor, East Liverpool; settled at defendant's cost.

FIGHT WILL BE MADE

Against Admitting Cincinnati Engineers to Federation Convention.

Youngstown, Oct. 2.—The eighteenth annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor opened here with nearly 150 delegates in attendance. It will continue for four days. A fight will be made by the Cincinnati delegation against the admission of the National Association of Stationary Engineers on the ground that they are not affiliated with the Federation, being organized for educational purposes.

There is a determined effort to promote harmony, although delegates in speeches criticized the convict labor commission appointed by Governor Nash.

Election Proclamation. Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—The sheriff's proclamation ordering an election for November 5 has been issued as required by law.

Frank Sherwood Made a Startling Disclosure to an Officer.

RANSACKED HIS RESIDENCE

And Turned Over a Large Quantity of Dry Goods of Value.

INSISTS THEY WERE STOLEN

Accuses Mrs. Sherwood of Being the Guilty Party—Merchants Unable to Identify the Property—Mayor Discredits Sherwood's Story.

Mayor Davidson is confronted with a case of a most unusual nature and has a startling charge to investigate.

Frank Sherwood, who was arrested last night on the charge of wife beating, surprised Officer Stafford this morning by telling him that Mrs. Sherwood was a shoplifter and had been playing her trade in the different dry goods stores of the city for several months. To corroborate his statement Sherwood took the policeman to his residence on Broadway, where he turned into his charge enough stuff to fill two ordinary sized trunks.

In the presence of his wife, who lay in bed suffering from the effects of the beating her husband administered to her, Sherwood told the officer that she had stolen the goods and that he wanted to have her prosecuted.

The outfit consisted of a variety of almost everything to be found in a dry goods establishment. A sealskin coat, of an out-of-date pattern was perhaps the mostly costly article. Silks and satins of great value were also displayed.

Not one of the local merchants was willing to swear that a single article had been stolen from him.

The mayor does not believe Sherwood's story.

STILL AGGRESSIVE

WHITE CAPS THREATEN MORE MISCHIEF AT HIGHLANDTOWN.

A Detective to Be Brought From Pittsburgh to Bring Offenders to Justice.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—The latest reports from Sumner McPherson, of Highlandtown, who was poisoned last week by white caps, indicate his speedy recovery.

It is reported here that the marauders were again on the warpath last night and that a letter was found on the road saying "a more certain method" would be used next time.

This is supposed to mean that another attempt on the lives of the McPhersons is intended. It is said a private detective from Pittsburgh will be set to work on the case, in the hope of identifying and arresting the guilty. When the offenders are caught it would not be surprising if an attempt at summary vengeance were to take place.

THIEF IDENTIFIED

Charles White, Now in Lisbon Jail, Wanted Also in Stark County.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Constable David Riley, of Stark county, was here today to identify Charles White, who was arrested some weeks ago by Sheriff Noragon on his release from the Canton workhouse, where he had been serving a term for alleged robbery.

Constable Riley identified White as the man who had been convicted of robbery in Stark county. White is in jail here, charged with stealing jewelry and other valuables to the amount of $135 from the house of A. L. Loucon, of Hanover township, on March 19 last.

BOUND OVER TO COURT

Allen Hargreaves Charged With Abandoning a Child And With Assault.

Allen Hargreaves was bound over to common pleas court yesterday afternoon by Justice McCarron on the charges of abandonment of a minor child and assault and battery.

GOVERNOR NASH LENDS AID TO COLUMBIANA OFFICIALS

Moves to Secure Accommodations For More Epileptic Patients.

PARTY TICKETS ON FILE

Prohibitionists and Socialist Labor People Announce Nominations Made.

THIS COUNTY SHOWS UP STRONG

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, Oct. 2.—Although Columbiana county now has more than her regular quota of patients at the Ohio hospital for epileptics at Gallipolis, through the instrumentality of Governor Nash, an arrangement has been perfected whereby additional patients from this county will be admitted to the institution. There are now 16 patients from Columbiana county at the hospital, and the county's quota is 14. Five other applications are pending and will be accepted. Probate Judge Boone, of Lisbon, presented these applications to Dr. Coleman, superintendent of the institution, and the latter replied that no more patients would be received from Columbiana county while its quota remained full. Judge Boone, nothing daunted, wrote Governor Nash, soliciting his aid in the case. The governor communicated with Superintendent Coleman, who stated that, as there are a number of counties with only partial quotas at the hospital, that additional patients would be taken from Columbiana county on the condition, however, that in the event of these counties demanding the admission of the full number of patients, as limited by the law, all extra patients from Columbiana county be withdrawn. The next legislature will be asked to make an appropriation to provide additional buildings for the care of epileptic and insane patients. In almost every infirmary in the state there are such patients, and there is only room for a limited number in the state institutions.

A petition with upwards of 12,000 names was filed with the secretary of state today by Chairman J. J. Ashenbush, of this city, of the Prohibition party, and application made for a place for the party on the state ticket. Under the law the party needs 10,500 signatures. At the last regular election the Prohibitionists failed to secure the number of votes requisite to get on the state ballot without petition. Both Stark and Columbiana county responded generously to the call for signatures, and without their help it might have been impossible for the party to secure representation on the official ballot this year. Stark contributed 912 signatures and Columbiana 585, which is more than was furnished by any other two counties. John Danner, of Canton, engineered the canvass for signatures in Stark county. E. D. Salkeld, of Steubenville, had charge of the work of securing signatures in Columbiana county. He is one of the Prohibition candidates for state senator in his district. Mahoning county gave the party exactly 75 signatures. Volney B. Cushing, the Prohibition orator from Maine, who has already spoken several times in the Eighteenth district, will remain in the state until the end of the campaign. The cold water adherents are not done with the Eighteenth district yet. Clinton N. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., founder of the Prohibition Union of Christian Men, a noted orator, is booked for four speeches in Columbiana county this month. East Liverpool is on the list.

The Socialist Labor party has applied to Secretary of State L. C. Laylin for a place on the official ticket. A petition made up of 244 smaller ones is also filed with an aggregate of 11,725 signatures, the statutory requirement for a place on the state ticket being 10,490 signatures. The ticket follows: For governor, Harry C. Thompson, Cincinnati; lieutenant governor, Michael J. Hynes, Dayton; treasurer of state, John Freudenthal, Toledo; attorney general, John G. Wilbert, Cleveland; members of board of public works, John F. Flynn, Canton; judge of supreme court, E. Howard Randall,

Springfield; clerk of the supreme court, Peter Frann, Portsmouth. W. G. Critchlow, of Dayton, is secretary of the party's executive committee.

Articles of agreement of consolidation have been filed with the secretary of state by the Akron and Barberton Belt Line railway company and the Akron South Side Belt Line company, the capital stock being placed at $25,000. The backers of the consolidated concern are the gentlemen who have during the past six or eight months incorporated the lines which, if built, will utilize about all the unoccupied space in central and eastern Ohio.

The officers of the new company are Charles W. French, Mansfield, president; C. D. Crouch, Akron, vice president; V. A. Dehnell, Mansfield, secretary; Hugh A. Holmes, Detroit, treasurer; W. W. Pope, Akron, auditor. The directory is composed of all the officers excepting the treasurer and C. E. Hurd, of Akron. Akron is headquarters.

The state board of railway equalization met yesterday and decided it has no authority to increase the total aggregate of taxation as returned by county auditors. This is contrary to the position taken by Tom Johnson, who argued that the board possessed this power in his demand that taxation on railroads be increased. The attorney general's ruling is to the effect that the board's duties are to equalize, not to appraise and raise values as affecting the total aggregate of taxation as returned by county auditors. He defines the law as indicating that the board is alone vested with the right to equalize. Johnson may invoke the assistance of the courts to enforce the relief prayed for.

A press dispatch announces that a number of Ohio men are made beneficiaries in a will made by William Henry Harrison Smith, a wealthy railroad man who died at Syracuse, N. Y., leaving a fortune of $100,000. The will was read Monday. Most of the estate goes to the widow, Albert G. Smith, of Lisbon, is a brother of the deceased, and will receive $2,000. Mr. Smith is a carpenter. About $10,000 will be divided among Ohio heirs.

J. W. Young, of Wellsville, until recently a resident of East Liverpool, was in Columbus yesterday.

GEORGE T. BLAKE.

LOVERS FALL OUT

"Bado" Hogue And Maggie Malone Were the Participants—Both Lodged in Jail.

Church alley was the scene of a disturbance yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the arrest of "Bado" Hogue and Maggie Malone, both of whom were fined this morning for disorderly conduct and committed to the workhouse. Hogue, however, succeeded in paying his assessment, but Miss Malone was not so fortunate and is yet taking her meals at Chief Thompson's hostelry.

The couple was arrested at about the supper hour. The chief was attracted to the Malone domicile, and neighbors in the community were startled by the screams of the young woman, who was undergoing a beating and which was being administered by Hogue, who lays claim to Maggie's affections. When the officer reached the scene the female was about "all in," and her admirer was just putting another coat of purple on one of her eyes when he was taken in hand.

With no little difficulty the chief got the pair started to the jail and only by threats to use the handcuffs did he save himself further trouble. When taken before the mayor both pleaded guilty as charged and expressed sorrow for their actions. Maggie's visage much resembles a roll of country sausage.

WELSH-MALEY

Well Known Young Couple Married at St. Aloysius' Catholic Church.

Hugh Maley and Miss Lizzie Welsh were united in marriage at St. Aloysius' church by Father Mahon yesterday at 6:30 o'clock. They have many friends in this city.

They left on the afternoon train for a wedding tour to Buffalo, after which they will go to housekeeping in this city.

UNDER ARREST AS DEFAULTER

W. E. Hutchinson Accused of Embezzling $6,500 Funds in His Care.

SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

The Accused a Former Property Owner of This City, Where He Was Married—Found in Chicago Under an Assumed Name.

W. E. Hutchinson, who once owned property in this city and who was married here, is in trouble in Chicago. His father, a former saloon keeper, is still a resident of this city. Hutchinson married Emma, daughter of T. M. Bennett, in this city. His wife died some years ago, and a case is now pending in the courts of this county for the sale of the lot in which she is buried in Riverview cemetery.

Hutchinson formerly owned property opposite Columbian park in this city and started his father in the saloon business. His home was in Pittsburgh. All his property here was afterward sold except the cemetery lot. The story of his arrest and its cause is told in the following dispatch from Pittsburgh:

"Word was received in Pittsburgh last night from Chicago that W. E. Hutchinson, known under the alias, G. S. Edwards, was arrested by Chicago Detectives Bock and De Sous on a charge of embezzling $6,500 from the German National Building & Loan Association of Pittsburgh three years ago. Hutchinson was working as a stenographer for H. N. Coolidge & Co., of 135 Lake street, under the name of Edwards. He feigned innocence at first, but confessed on the road to the police station. Detective W. J. Morris, of this city, secured possession of Hutchinson on requisition papers and he will arrive today with his prisoner.

"About three years ago O. P. Cochran, one of the Pennsylvania state bank examiners, began an examination of the books of the German association, considered one of the strongest and most prosperous associations in western Pennsylvania. It paid 8 per cent dividends and Hutchinson was implicitly trusted as the secretary. During the examination several hazy transactions were discovered and Secretary Hutchinson was quickly asked for an explanation. The hazy items multiplied to such an extent that a supposed shortage of $600 was discovered. Hutchinson then disappeared, officials of the association shielding him at the time by giving out that he had merely been ill and had gone on a vacation. He was traced by outsiders interested to East Liverpool and then all traces and memory of the man were lost.

"So implicit was the confidence of the association officials in Hutchinson that they refused to believe that his accounts were not as they should have been, and Barking Examiner Cochran finally reported to the directors a supposed shortage of $6,500, which the directors were compelled to mark off on their stock.

"It was generally supposed that the building and loan association officials had forgotten Hutchinson, but word reached them a few days ago that he was working in Chicago and had been working there for a year. The Chicago police were asked to co-operate and Detective Morris was sent to find the man and bring him to Pittsburgh. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest and he was captured easily. He was considered trustworthy by the employers and went to them highly recommended.

"Hutchinson lived on Lawn street while here and was said to have been extravagant, although his salary was only $1,500 a year. His alleged defalcations and his sudden departure formed sensations at the time, although the officials made vigorous denials for a long time."

Licensed to Marry.

CHARGED WITH WIFE BEATING

BEFORE JUSTICE M'LANE

Sherwood Pleaded Guilty, But Sentence Was Suspended—Davis Will Contest His Case And Give $300 Bond for Trial.

Two alleged wife beaters were arrested last night and given hearings in Justice McLane's court. Frank Sherwood, proprietor of a Broadway dyeing establishment, and who was fined a few days ago in the mayor's court for disorderly conduct, was one of the accused men. The affidavit which caused the man's arrest last night was filed by his wife.

Constable Miller arrested Sherwood at about 9 o'clock at his home. He was taken immediately before the justice, when he pleaded guilty as charged. As Mrs. Sherwood was not present at the hearing and as the magistrate did not know the extent of her injuries, he suspended sentence until an investigation of the case can be made.

At about the same time that Constable Miller brought Sherwood into court Constable Powell also appeared with J. W. Davis, the other man accused of wife beating. Mrs. Davis filed the affidavit and her husband was arrested at his home on Union street. The woman's face bore evidence of having been badly bruised and scratched and at the time the attack is said to have taken place, her screams aroused all the neighbors in the community of her home.

Davis pleaded not guilty to the charge and was placed under bond of $300 to appear for trial on next Tuesday evening.

ON A COAL CAR

A Culmination of Trouble in the Family of George Crawford.

It is likely that the domestic unpleasantness existing in the family of George Crawford, of Gardendale, will find its way into the courts once more.

Yesterday Mrs. Crawford, who alleges many things, and who was in a local justice's court last week with her troubles, determined to leave her husband, and return to the home of her mother. She took her little daughter and left the home at Gardendale, making her way on foot to the city. The husband is a teamster and happened to be delivering a load of coal in the hill district when his wife appeared. He left his team standing and started in pursuit of the runaway wife, overtaking her after a long chase. The wife was deprived of the child and permitted to go her way. Some time had been spent in the chase, and Crawford's employer was compelled to send out another man to look after the team. Crawford returned to his work, taking the child with him, and finished the day's work. The little one did not present a very neat appearance when the coal hauling was finished, but the father had triumphed and is determined to retain possession of his child.

quantity of hay for the horses. He had almost completed the task when he stepped upon a loose board and fell to the floor below. Mr. Johnson alighted upon his right side, breaking two ribs and receiving other injuries. He was assisted to his home nearby and a physician summoned. It was found that one of the injured man's ribs had been broken loose from the spine, and the other injuries were of a very severe nature. He will not be able to work for several days.

TWO STOLEN HORSES

The Men Who Hired the Rigs Are Not Yet in Custody.

Through the efforts of Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson, two horses stolen have been located and are now in the hands of their rightful owners. J. P. Pearce, of Damascus, owned one of the horses, which he recovered last night from Sid Starkey, and D. I. Miller, a Sebring liveryman, procured the other this morning at Ray's stable.

The Damascus horse was hired by a young man, whose name is said to be Buzzard. Starkey bought the horse from Buzzard in this city a few days ago, paying $8 in cash and also giving a pistol worth about $8 for the animal. Starkey did not know of the theft until Chief Thompson went to his stable to look at the horse.

Pearce was notified of the find and came to East Liverpool with Constable McArter, also of Damascus. The animal was at once identified and taken home. The police have not yet located Buzzard, but his arrest, it is believed, will shortly follow.

The Sebring horse was hired last Friday night by a man giving the name of Ollie Bittner, and who claimed to be a potter. He agreed to return the rig the same night, but since that time nothing was heard of it until Mayor Davidson and Chief Thompson learned of a strange horse and buggy found at the Croft farm. The animal had been driven into a field and allowed to run at large until found by one of the farm hands. The mayor and chief brought the rig to this city and placed it in Ray's barn, where the owner identified it this morning.

Nothing is known concerning the identity of Bittner, and it is thought that at the time he hired the horse he gave Liveryman Miller a fictitious name. There were no rewards offered for either of the missing animals, and hence, their owners are fortunate in finding them as they did.

GRAND JURY REPORT

Not Yet Ready—Petit Jury Dismissed Until Monday.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Common pleas petit jury was dismissed today by County Clerk John S. McNutt, Judge Hole being absent, until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The grand jury is still in session, it will report tomorrow or Friday.

The following civil cases have been disposed of in common pleas:

George Wilshaw et al vs. Ellen M. O'Connor, East Liverpool; settled at defendant's cost.

FIGHT WILL BE MADE

Against Admitting Cincinnati Engineers to Federation Convention.

Youngstown, Oct. 2.—The eighteenth annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor opened here with nearly 150 delegates in attendance. It will continue for four days. A fight will be made by the Cincinnati delegation against the admission of the National Association of Stationary Engineers on the ground that they are not affiliated with the Federation, being organized for educational purposes.

There is a determined effort to promote harmony, although delegates in speeches criticised the convict labor commission appointed by Governor Nash.

Accuses Mrs. Sherwood of Being the Guilty Party—Merchants Unable to Identify the Property—Mayor Discredits Sherwood's Story.

Mayor Davidson is confronted with a case of a most unusual nature and has a startling charge to investigate.

Frank Sherwood, who was arrested last night on the charge of wife beating, surprised Officer Stafford this morning by telling him that Mrs. Sherwood was a shoplifter and had been plying her trade in the different dry goods stores of the city for several months. To corroborate his statement Sherwood took the policeman to his residence on Broadway, where he turned into his charge enough stuff to fill two ordinary sized trunks.

In the presence of his wife, who lay in bed suffering from the effects of the beating her husband administered to her, Sherwood told the officer that she had stolen the goods and that he wanted to have her prosecuted.

The outfit consisted of a variety of almost everything to be found in a dry goods establishment. A sealskin coat, of an out-of-date pattern was perhaps the mostly costly article. Silks and satins of great value were also displayed.

Not one of the local merchants was willing to swear that a single article had been stolen from him.

STILL AGGRESSIVE

WHITE CAPS THREATEN MORE MISCHIEF AT HIGHLANDTOWN.

A Detective to Be Brought From Pittsburgh to Bring Offenders to Justice.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—The latest reports from Sumner McPherson, of Highlandtown, who was poisoned last week by white caps, indicate his speedy recovery.

It is reported here that the marauders were again on the warpath last night and that a letter was found on the road saying "a more certain method" would be used next time.

This is supposed to mean that another attempt on the lives of the McPhersons is intended. It is said a private detective from Pittsburgh will be set to work on the case, in the hope of identifying and arresting the guilty. When the offenders are caught it would not be surprising if an attempt at summary vengeance were to take place.

THIEF IDENTIFIED

Charles White, Now in Lisbon Jail, Wanted Also in Stark County.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Constable David Riley, of Stark county, was here today to identify Charles White, who was arrested some weeks ago by Sheriff Noragon on his release from the Canton workhouse, where he had been serving a term for alleged robbery.

Constable Riley identified White as the man who had been convicted of robbery in Stark county. White is in jail here, charged with stealing jewelry and other valuables to the amount of $135 from the house of A. L. London, of Hanover township, on March 19 last.

FRIEND OF THE FARMER

A Good Word For the Country Editor And the Work He Does.

In a recent address before a farmers' association, one of the speakers said: "As a rule the farmer has no firmer friend than the country press. The paper is distinctly the farmer's own paper; supported directly or indirectly by farmers who compose the backbone of the printer's subscription list and largely for what the enterprising merchant advertises. Now, brothers, let us not forget our friends. Let us see that our subscription is paid before the first of April and a year in advance if we can afford it. The man or the paper that fights my battles shall have my support."

"Another thing, the merchant who advertises is the one that makes it possible for us to get a good local paper, and the man or firms who are too penurious to advertise and help support the local press have no right to the farmer's patronage. I propose hereafter to go to a live advertiser and a man who will do his share toward supporting the local press, thus contributing to my support, rather than buy of a man who proposes to take all and give nothing in return. If farmers as a class would support their friends, the other fellows would soon go out of business."

AFTER MANY YEARS

Owner Finds a Keepsake Lost at the Battle of the Wilderness.

Wooster, Oct. 2.—During the G. A. R. encampment at Cleveland George Musser, of this city, told of losing a pin and needle case at the battle of the Wilderness, which he prized very highly.

George Mutzler, of Goshen, Ind., said that he had found such a case, and that if he could find it when he got home he would return it to Musser. Mutzler kept his word and Musser is now in possession of the case.

THEATRICAL BUDGET

"The Messenger Boy" Is Not a Great Success.

"UP YORK STATE" SCORES A HIT.

It is One of the Best Dramas of Humble Life Ever Seen in America—The Consistent Improvement in the Work of the Authors.

The current attraction at Daly's theater in this city is an English musical comedy, "The Messenger Boy." Mr. James T. Powers is featured in the title role, and the production is made by Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman of Philadelphia. "The Messenger Boy," which had a long run at the London Gayety theater, is, according to the programme, "by James P. Tanner and Alfred Murray; lyrics by Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank; music by Ivan Caryll and Lionel Moncton."

"The Messenger Boy" is not likely to prove another "San Toy." The latter musical comedy was so unusually good for an English concoction that American managers stumbled over each other in a wild scramble for "The Messenger Boy" on the theory that because "San Toy" was good and made money all London productions of the same nature would be similarly meritorious. That this will prove a mistake in the case of "The Messenger Boy" is evident unless radical measures are immediately taken to so change the comedy that its six parents will not be able to recognize their offspring. There is a rather long cast of characters, none of whom seems to have very much to do with the advancement of the ridiculously meager story.

James T. Powers as Tommy Bang, a district messenger, was funny—in "the peculiar Powers way." He does several dances quite well—in "the peculiar Powers way." His role is fairly peppered with gags of more or less recent vintage which he emits—in "the peculiar Powers way." But, after all, Powers is amusing enough, for the reason that many thousands of persons in this and other cities admire that "peculiar Powers way."

Rachael Booth (Mrs. James T. Powers) is Mr. Powers' principal assistant in the numerous sketch bits assigned to him, and candor compels the admission that her work is in most respects better than that of her liege lord.

May Robson, fresh from years of triumph as the leading character actress in the Empire and Daly's theater stock companies, gave a very fair performance of Mrs. Bang, the messenger boy's mother. Her costumes, however, were unnecessarily and unfemininely vulgar.

Jobyna Howland made a dignified Lady Punctestown and really dressed and acted as "a leader of London society" might be expected to act and dress. The rest of the cast was eminently satisfactory.

The costuming of "The Messenger Boy" was exceedingly pretty, and the scenery was evidently provided without regard to expense. Still, the humor of "The Messenger Boy" is of a quality foreign to the American taste, and it will be interesting to note the fate of this essentially English production, with its dull, heavy wit, in a country where snap and repartee are preferred to punning.

David Higgins and Georgia Waldron will find that "Up York State" will prove a more profitable investment than their "At Piney Ridge," which is popularly supposed to have added many thousands of dollars to their bank account. The Higgins combination is a particularly happy one, by the way. Mr. Higgins and Miss Waldron are man and wife. They collaborate on their plays, and when these are produced the principal male role is assigned to Mr. Higgins, while Mrs. Higgins looks after the principal female character. Thus, if Mr. Higgins does not own the attraction, the manager must pay both salary and royalty to Mrs. Higgins and himself. If, on the other hand, Mr. Higgins sends the play out on his own account, he has no royalty to pay, and his leading man and leading woman cost him nothing. Besides, if he should desire to change any of the lines or business of the piece, he may do so without fear of having the author enter a strenuous objection. The Higginses in their theatrical adventures thus seem to have a grip upon "both ends and the middle." They deserve all they have made, however, for their work has shown steady improvement during many years. Even at the outset of their careers as dramatic authors, when their plays were rather poor stuff, the Higginses always managed to inject into them sufficient of the true ring of heart interest to make them attractive to the class of audiences to whom they appealed. Gradually they have worked up until in "Up York State," which has had a little run at the Fourteenth Street theater in this city, they have succeeded in producing the best melodrama of its type ever seen in this country.

"Up York State" does not tell a story which is in any sense unconventional. Indeed, most of its success is due to the fact that it is one of every ten of the auditors have seen in real life the characters represented in the play and have known or heard of them in similar experiences to those through which they go on the stage. There are very few authors who are able to transfer persons to the stage without losing most of their essential characteristics, but the Higginses have done it, and for that reason it is safe to predict that they will rank much higher as authors than they do at present if they will pay a trifle more attention to technical construction. At present they are a trifle abrupt in the development of their story, but they give it so much heart interest and it is so thoroughly true to nature that these trifling shortcomings may be, with justice, overlooked.

The cast of "Up York State" was as follows:

Darius Green, the inventive genius of Stony Creek.....David Higgins
Allen Woodford, richest man in town.....E. F. Nagle
Lem Yarrington, his right hand man.....Walter G. Horton Dodge Hutchins, Green's hired boy.....William T. Dodge
Dr. Doolittle.....John R. Campson
Rev. Dr. Emmons.....Charles D. Coburn
Jake Dean.....Harry Dais
Roy, Evelyn's brother.....Master John Gough
Evelyn Blair, the ward of Darius, Georgia Waldron
Sarah Bassett, Darius' aunt.....Gabriella McKean
Liz Williams.....Ada Dwyer
Amy Robinson, minister's niece from Brooklyn.....Olive Maud Davis
Leila Bell Bird, the village coquette.....Eva Westcott
Mrs. Emmons, minister's wife.....Pauline Duffield
Mary Martin.....Virginia Tracy
Delia Hedge.....Dorritt Gough

Mr. Higgins in the role of Darius Green was excellent, showing us the truly ingenious and open hearted though innately shrewd young countryman. He is evidently now a disciple of the "repressed emotion" school, and it is well that this is so, for I remember Mr. Higgins when in his early days he afforded much amusement in the effort to do "strenuous" acting. Miss Waldron was a bit too sad as the girl who married the man she didn't love and then refused to live with him because he failed to live strictly up to the spirit of the agreement as understood by her. A little more lightness would greatly improve Miss Waldron's interpretation. William T. Dodge was Lem Yarrington, a bumpkin villain, and he played it as well as he played a somewhat similar character in "Sag Harbor," and that is saying a great deal. "This young man is certain to be exploited as a star some day. He is the only one of his kind, so far as I am aware, in the United States, and there would be a mint of money in him if he were put forward in the proper vehicle. The other members of the cast of "Up York State" were exceptionally good, and I shall be disappointed if the life of this play should not be as great as that of "In Old Kentucky," to which it is in every respect vastly superior.

The Castle Square Opera company, now at the Broadway theater, in this city, whence it will shortly start upon a tour of the important centers, has scored a great success. Perhaps it would be more correct to say a series of successes, for in every opera presented there has been a completeness in cast and equipment which has been surprising to those persons who have fondly imagined that no satisfactory performance of grand opera could be given by any organization other than the metropolitan company. Mr. Savage has demonstrated that opera in English can be made to pay at popular prices and that it is not necessary in order to attain that end to cheapen the cast or the scenic or costume equipment. The Castle Square company had earned such a reputation before its present season at the Broadway that its success is no surprise to the knowing ones. It is probably a fact, however, that the organization this season is the best Mr. Savage has ever got together. OCTAVUS CORNELL.

FRIEND OF THE FARMER

In a recent address before a farmers' association, one of the speakers said: "As a rule the farmer has no firmer friend than the country press. The paper is distinctly the farmer's own paper; supported directly or indirectly by farmers who compose the backbone of the printer's subscription list and largely for what the enterprising merchant advertises. Now, brothers, let us not forget our friends. Let us see that our subscription is paid before the first of April and a year in advance if we can afford it. The man or the paper that fights my battles shall have my support."

"Another thing, the merchant who advertises is the one that makes it possible for us to get a good local paper, and the man or firms who are too penurious to advertise and help support the local press have no right to the farmer's patronage. I propose hereafter to go to a live advertiser and a man who will do his share toward supporting the local press, thus contributing to my support, rather than buy of a man who proposes to take all and give nothing in return. If farmers as a class would support their friends, the other fellows would soon go out of business."

AFTER MANY YEARS

Wooster, Oct. 2.—During the G. A. R. encampment at Cleveland George Musser, of this city, told of losing a pin and needle case at the battle of the Wilderness, which he prized very highly.

George Mutzler, of Goshen, Ind., said that he had found such a case, and that if he could find it when he got home he would return it to Musser. Mutzler kept his word and Musser is now in possession of the case.

HAMMONDSVILLE

Hammondsville, Oct. 2.—Mrs. J. E. Hartman and Miss Ruth left today for a visit with her parents at Mahoning, Pa.

M. C. Huston, of Wellsville, is in this village today canvassing for the life of William McKinley.

Eddie Parsons, who has been working in the pottery at Wellsville, has come back to take his place in the tin mill at Irontdale.

Mrs. Hait and Miss Lilly were visiting friends in Monroeville.

Mrs. B. F. Elliott left Saturday to visit friends in Steubenville a few days.

Miss Emma Taylor has gone for a visit with relatives in Brilliant.

Henry Leatherberry is loading several cars of lumber.

Rev. Mr. Ellis preached his first sermon of the second year Sunday evening.

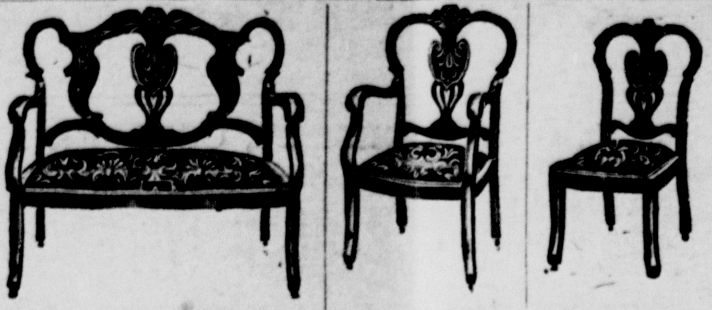

Mrs. Geo. W. Maple returned Saturday from a few days' visit with friends in Steubenville.

Mrs. Charles Hensel, of Lisbon, spent a few days with her father, George Householder.

Another new daughter has arrived to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stewart.

James Hogan, a brother of Policeman Hogan, of Wellsville, had his face badly burned at the tin mill last week, but is able to go to work again.

John Frampton has moved to Chester. He is a carpenter and spent many days helping to build the town of Sebring.

THEATRICAL BUDGET

"The Messenger Boy" Is Not a Great Success.

"UP YORK STATE" SCORES A HIT.

It Is One of the Best Dramas of Humble Life Ever Seen in America—The Consistent Improvement in the Work of the Authors.

The current attraction at Daly's theater in this city is an English musical comedy, "The Messenger Boy." Mr. James T. Powers is featured in the title role, and the production is made by Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman of Philadelphia. "The Messenger Boy," which had a long run at the London Gayety theater, is, according to the programme, "by James P. Tanner and Alfred Murray; lyrics by Adrian Ross and Percy Greenbank; music by Ivan Caryll and Lionel Moncton."

"The Messenger Boy" is not likely to prove another "San Toy." The latter musical comedy was so unusually good for an English conception that American managers stumbled over each other in a wild scramble for "The Messenger Boy" on the theory that because "San Toy" was good and made money all London productions of the same nature would be similarly meritorious. That this will prove a mistake in the case of "The Messenger Boy" is evident unless radical measures are immediately taken to so change the comedy that its six parents will not be able to recognize their offspring. There is a rather long cast of characters, none of whom seems to have very much to do with the advancement of the ridiculously meager story.

James T. Powers as Tommy Bang, a district messenger, was funny—in "the peculiar Powers way." He has several songs, which he sings—in "the peculiar Powers way." His role is fairly peppered with gags of more or less recent vintage which he emits—in "the peculiar Powers way." But, after all, Powers is amusing enough, for the reason that many thousands of persons in this and other cities admire that "peculiar Powers way."

Rachael Booth (Mrs. James T. Powers) is Mr. Powers' principal assistant in the numerous sketch bits assigned to him, and candor compels the admission that her work is in most respects better than that of her liege lord.

May Robson, fresh from years of triumph as the leading character actress in the Empire and Daly's theater stock companies, gave a very fair performance of Mrs. Bang, the messenger boy's mother. Her costumes, however, were unnecessarily and unfemininely vulgar.

Jobyna Howland made a dignified Lady Punctonchown and really dressed and acted as "a leader of London society" might be expected to act and dress. The rest of the cast was eminently satisfactory.

The costuming of "The Messenger Boy" was exceedingly pretty, and the scenery was evidently provided without regard to expense. Still, the humor of "The Messenger Boy" is of a quality foreign to the American taste, and it will be interesting to note the fate of this essentially English production, with its dull, heavy wit, in a country where snap and repartee are preferred to punning.

David Higgins and Georgia Waldron will find that "Up York State" will prove a more profitable investment than their "At Piney Ridge," which is popularly supposed to have added many thousands of dollars to their bank account. The Higgins combination is a particularly happy one, by the way. Mr. Higgins and Miss Waldron are man and wife. They collaborate on their plays, and when these are produced the principal male role is assigned to Mr. Higgins, while Mrs. Higgins looks after the principal female character. Thus, if Mr. Higgins does not own the attraction, the manager must pay both salary and royalty to Mrs. Higgins and himself. If, on the other hand, Mr. Higgins sends the play out on his own account, he has no royalty to pay, and his leading man and leading woman cost him nothing. Besides, if he should desire to change any of the lines or business of the piece, he may do so without fear of having the author enter a strenuous objection. The Higginses in their theatrical adventures thus seem to have a grip upon "both ends and the middle." They deserve all they have made, however, for their work has shown steady improvement during many years. Even at the outset of their careers as dramatic authors, when their plays were rather poor stuff, the Higginses always managed to inject into them sufficient of the true ringing heart interest to make them attractive to the class of audiences to whom they appealed. Gradually they have worked up until in "Up York State," which has had a little run at the Fourteenth Street theater in this city, they have succeeded in producing the best melodrama of its type ever seen in this country.

"Up York State" does not tell a story which is in any sense unconventional. Indeed, most of its success is due to the fact that nine out of every ten of the auditors have seen in real life the characters represented in the play and have known or heard of them in similar experiences to those through which they go on the stage. There are very few authors who are able to transfer persons to the stage without losing most of their essential characteristics, but the Higginses have done it, and for that reason it is safe to predict that they will rank much higher as authors than they do at present if they will pay a trifle more attention to technical construction. At present they are a trifle abrupt in the development of their story, but they give it so much heart interest and it is so thoroughly true to nature that these trifling shortcomings may be, with justice, overlooked.

The cast of "Up York State" was as follows:

Darius Green, the inventive genius of Stony Creek.....David Higgins
Allen Woodford, richest man in town.....Walter G. Horton Lem Yarrington, his right hand man.....William T. Dodge Dodge Hutchins, Green's hired boy.....John H. Campson
Dr. Doolittle.....Charles D. Coburn
Rev. Dr. Emmons.....E. F. Nagle
Jake Dean.....Harry Daus
Roy, Evelyn's brother.....Master John Gough
Evelyn Blair, the aunt of Darius.....Georgia Waldron
Sarah Bassett, Darius' aunt.....Gabriella McKean
Liz Williams.....Ada Dwyer
Amy Robinson, minister's niece from Brooklyn.....Olive Maud Davis
Leila Bell Bird, the village coquette.....Eva Westcott
Mrs. Emmons, minister's wife.....Pauline Duffield
Mary Martin.....Virginia Tracy
Bella Hedge.....Dorritt Gough

Mr. Higgins in the role of Darius Green was excellent, showing us the truly ingenuous and open hearted though innately shrewd young countryman. He is evidently now a disciple of the "repressed emotion" school, and it is well that this is so, for I remember Mr. Higgins when in his early days he afforded much amusement in the effort to do "strenuous" acting. Miss Waldron was a bit too sad as the girl who married the man she didn't love and then refused to live with him because he failed to live strictly up to the spirit of the agreement as understood by her. A little more lightness would greatly improve Miss Waldron's interpretation. William T. Dodge was Lem Yarrington, a bumpkin villain, and he played it as well as he played a somewhat similar character in "Sag Harbor," and that is saying a great deal. This young man is certain to be exploited as a star some day. He is the only one of his kind, so far as I am aware, in the United States, and there would be a mint of money in him if he were put forward in the proper vehicle. The other members of the cast of "Up York State" were exceptionally good, and I shall be disappointed if the life of this play should not be as great as that of "In Old Kentucky," to which it is in every respect vastly superior.

The Castle Square Opera company, now at the Broadway theater, in this city, whence it will shortly start upon a tour of the important centers, has scored a great success. Perhaps it would be more correct to say a series of successes, for in every opera presented there has been a completeness in cast and equipment which has been surprising to those persons who have fondly imagined that no satisfactory performance of grand opera could be given by any organization other than the metropolitan company. Mr. Savage has demonstrated that opera in English can be made to pay at popular prices and that it is not necessary in order to attain that end to cheapen the cast or the scenic or costume equipment. The Castle Square company had earned such a reputation before its present season at the Broadway that its success is no surprise to the knowing ones. It is probably a fact, however, that the organization this season is the best Mr. Savage has ever got together.

CLARKSON

Clarkson, Oct. 1.—The Old Settlers' excursion to Indiana claimed the presence of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Moore, Mrs. Marion Louthan, Mrs. Margaret Woolam and Miss Ella Woolam, the last two ladies only going as far as Gallon, Ohio.

Miss Adda Moore, who has had such a serious siege of typhoid fever, is now convalescent and able to receive visitors.

Alfred Moore, Esq., has been seriously ill with rheumatism for the past three weeks. He seems to be improving slowly.

Miss Mary Todd, of Bluffton, Ind., and Mrs. Lizzie Todd Anderson, of East Liverpool, are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, nee Miss Clara Shannon, of Wichita, Kan., who have been spending a few days with friends here, left for East Liverpool yesterday, and will go to the Pan-American in a few days.

DENIALS BY EVANS

Of Conversations With Schley,
Intimated by Latter's Counsel.

HE CORROBORATED M'CALLA

As to What Occurred at a Council
Held on Schley's Flagship—Rayner
Pointed Out Differences Between
Reports of Evans and Sampson.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Schley court of inquiry made good headway again, concluding with Admiral Evans and hearing three new witnesses, although the testimony of one of them was not concluded when the court adjourned until today. Admiral Evans' testimony was along the same general lines as was his statement of Monday, but some points were presented in greater detail in response to questions by Mr. Rayner. The new witnesses were Captain Sigsbee, who commanded the scout St. Paul during the Santiago campaign; Mr. Thomas M. Dieniaide, a newspaper correspondent, who was on the Texas during the battle of July 3, and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who was a clerk to Admiral Sampson during the war. The testimony of Evans was in part as follows:

Mr. Rayner began his interrogations by asking the witness concerning the secret code of signals for communicating with the Cuban insurgents near Cienfuegos. The admiral said that when Captain Chadwick communicated this code to him he did not instruct him to give the information to Commodore Schley.

Denied Intimated Conversations.

Later he asked: "Did you have a conversation with Commodore Schley on July 4, some time during the morning, between 8 and 12 o'clock, on the flagship at Santiago, in the course of which you used language as follows: 'Did you know that Captain Philip started to run away at the beginning of the battle?' and to which Commodore Schley replied, 'You are mistaken about that, Evans; I saw nothing of the kind. The Brooklyn made a turn and you must see the tactical situation that made it necessary.'"

"I do not remember being on board the Brooklyn on the 4th of July. I think it was the 5th at Guantanamo. I am quite positive I was not on board the Brooklyn off Santiago but once, and that was a long time before that. As to that conversation, I never said anything to the effect that Captain Philip had run away or attempted to run away. On thinking over last night, what did occur with reference to the Texas, I think Commodore Schley and I discussed the position of the Texas when the fight began. The Texas was lying with her head to the east when the engagement began and she turned with starboard helm and headed off in the same direction as the rest of us. She fired first with her port battery and then put her helm to starboard and headed in the same direction with the rest of the ships. I think that question I discussed with 'Commodore Schley. I cannot be sure of it, but that I ever intimated that Captain Philip attempted to run away with the Texas is preposterous on the face of it."

Didn't Use Such Language.

"Did you have a conversation with him on the same day, at the same place and at the same hour, or at any other place in which you used substantially the following language: 'I shot the bow off the Pluton, the stern off the Furor, put my helm to starboard and raked the Teresa and knocked out the Viscaya?'"

"To the best of my knowledge and belief, I never used such language."

He questioned him about a conference on board the flagship Brooklyn on May 29, and at one point asked:

"I want to call your attention to the report of Captain McCalla, of the Marblehead, which says: 'Commodore Schley explained to the commanding officers that in case the Spanish ships came out, he wished to concentrate the batteries of all our ships on a portion of those of the enemy. This was not explained as a tactical concentration of our whole force on a part of the enemy, but as a division of our whole fire on several of the enemy's ships. During the time the commanding officers were on board the flagship, Captain Evans asked Commodore Schley if it were his intention to steam at the enemy's ships in case they should start to come out. Commodore Schley answered, 'Certainly,' and added words indicative of his intention to attack them as they came out of the narrow defile."

Supported McCalla's Statement.

"I recollect it perfectly."

"Is that a correct statement?"

"That is correct."

"So there was a plan of battle arranged by Commodore Schley, was there not?"

"There is nothing there to indicate from what you have read."

"Was not that the same order that was afterward given by the commander-in-chief, substantially: 'Close in toward harbor entrance and attack them?'"

"You have not read anything about indicating any plan of battle."

Mr. Rayner—And added the words (reading) "indicative of his intention to attack them as they came out." I want to read you two reports, your report of the engagement of the Spanish squadron, and I would like you to tell me whether there is any conflict between them, and, if there is, which one of these statements, in your judgment, now is correct. (Reading.) "After having passed at 10:35 the Oquenda and Maria Teresa, on fire and ashore, this vessel continued to chase and fire upon the Viscaya until 10:36, when signal to cease firing was sounded on board, it having been discovered that the Viscaya had struck her colors." That was at

10:36 in your report. Now I want to read from the report of the commander-in-chief (reading). "The Viscaya was still under the fire of the leading vessels, the Cristobal Colon had drawn ahead, leading the chase, and soon passed beyond the range of the guns of the leading American ships. The Viscaya was soon set on fire and at 11:45 she turned in shore and was beached at Aserraderos, 15 miles from Santiago, burning fiercely, etc."

"I have no doubt you read it correctly."

"Which of these is correct? If there is a conflict between the commander-in-chief at the time that the Viscaya went ashore and your report, yours at 10:36 and his at 11:15, it becomes a material point to us which one of these specifications is correct."

"The time given in that report of mine was furnished by the navigator and executive officer of the ship. I, of course, did not take the time."

"While before Cienfuegos or on the way to Santiago did you have any orders for battle?" asked Mr. Hanna.

Had No Instructions.

"Had you any instructions as to what to do in case the enemy should appear?"

"We had not."

Mr. Thomas M. Dieniaide, who was on board the Texas during the Santiago campaign, was called. His testimony was in part:

Mr. Hanna—Did you see the Brooklyn at any time after the battle began?

"I saw the Brooklyn about 10 or 15 minutes after the battle began."

"Where was she with respect to the Texas?"

"Off the port bow of the Texas."

"Was she headed toward the Texas?"

"She was on a course about right angles to us at that moment. I have a note made at 9:50, in question marks: 'Stop both engines, helm hard starboard.'"

Rear Admiral Evans.

"Who gave that order?"

"Captain Philip."

"Where was the Brooklyn when that order was given?"

"I presume the Brooklyn was in front of the Texas. I saw her a moment later."

"Could you have been half a mile away?"

"I should think not; not anything like it. I would not suppose it was a quarter of a mile when I saw her. I was standing just aft of the conning tower, by the entrance. It was in that way I heard these orders given, and I wrote them down as Captain Philip gave them. I went around to the lee side of the conning tower to find out why we stopped. He (Captain Philip) waved his hand toward the Brooklyn and I saw her. He said, 'Look at that fellow going out to sea.'"

Admiral Dewey—Did you hear Captain Philip give any orders to back the engines?"

"No, sir. I do not remember that I did. I turned away almost immediately."

Admiral Dewey—You would have if he had given the order, wouldn't you?"

"I might and might not."

Admiral Dewey—You seem to have heard everything else."

Sigsbee Was on the Stand.

Captain Charles D. Sigsbee, who commanded the scout ship St. Paul during the Spanish war, was called. He said that in obedience to orders from Captain Wise, who was his commanding officer, he had proceeded to the vicinity of Santiago, arriving there on the 21st. His instructions were to report to Commodore Schley that the Spanish squadron probably was in Santiago harbor. He fell in with the flying squadron on the evening of May 26, the squadron then being 20 or 25 miles south of Santiago. He had reported to Commodore Schley that he "knew nothing positively" about the Spanish fleet.

He was then asked if he had expressed his belief to Commodore Schley that Cervara's fleet was not in the harbor, as reported later by Commodore Schley. A controversy arose over the admissibility of the question, and the court took a recess for luncheon before receiving the reply of the witness.

Captain Sigsbee was excused and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who served as a clerk to Admiral Sampson on board the flagship New York during the Spanish war, was called. He identified the memorandum from Captain McCalla, saying there was a good landing place near Cienfuegos, which Admiral Sampson sent to Commodore Schley under date of May 19, and said that this memorandum had been carried in duplicate by the Iowa and the Dupont. Mr. Rayner questioned the witness very closely, bringing out the fact that Becker had no records to show that either of these vessels had carried the memorandum and that he was dependent upon his memory in making the statement.

Were There Four Copies?

Mr. Hanna said in this connection that the department expected to be able to show that four copies of this memorandum had been forwarded to Commodore Schley. Mr. Rayner responded that he would admit only one copy and that was the copy delivered by the Hawk on May 23, 1898.

The court adjourned until today, with Mr. Becker still on the stand.

5 NEGROES LYNCHED.

They Were Strung Up In Texas For the Shooting
of a Planter.

MORE LYNCHINGS MAY OCCUR.

Trouble Grew From Leasing of Land
to Blacks, Who Refused to Harvest Crops, or Permit the Owners to Do So.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 2.—The details were beginning to reach Dallas of a race war in Harrison county, starting near Hallville, and spreading in all directions, in which five negroes have been lynched since last Saturday. The trouble is said to have started because negroes who had rented cotton lands from rich planters refused to harvest their crops, or permit the planters to get their shares of the yield.

A posse of white men went to the home of a negro, Thomas Walker, on the plantation of Julian Atwood. Walker fired on the white men, killing Atwood. During the early part of the chase that followed, one negro was caught and hanged. Two more were hanged on Sunday in the timber near the Gregg county line. George Muckleroy was taken out at night near Marshall and whipped to death. Taking it for granted that Thomas Walker has been lynched, the number of negroes killed is five, and Julian Atwood, the white man, makes the sixth victim of the tragedy.

All that has happened has taken place in a district not covered by telegraph or telephone, and such details as have come to hand are from responsible parties at Longview and Marshall. The people of the counties of Harrison and Gregg, both whites and blacks, are reported to be in a frenzy of excitement, and more lynchings are likely to occur.

The whites declare that the black renters have not only refused to gather their crops on shares, but have twined them out of money loaned during the season, with which to purchase supplies.

POLISH ROMAN CATHOLIC UNION

Denounced Crime of Czolgosz—Declared No Pole Ever an Assassin.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The national convention of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of the United States opened in this city, with delegates present from all parts of the country. After mass had been celebrated at the Polish church the delegates were welcomed by Mayor James K. McGuire, the response being made by Peter Kielbassa, of Chicago. In his speech Mr. Kielbassa said:

"We abhor the crime of Czolgosz, but we are not responsible for it. Had his father been a good Catholic, the son would have been brought up in the faith of the church we revere. His mother was not a Pole. She is a German. Therefore, do not blame us. We have proved our loyalty on many a battlefield. Never was the hand of a Pole stained with the blood of assassination."

DR. RIXEY LEFT CANTON.

Mrs. McKinley's Friends Hopeful.
Cortelyou Also Left.

Canton, O., Oct. 2.—Dr. Rixey, Mrs. McKinley's physician, left Canton last night for Washington. In his absence she will be under the care of Mrs. Phillips and Portman. Dr. Rixey will be available at any time and will come to Canton whenever his services are needed.

The affairs of the late president have been found to be in excellent condition and considerable progress has already been made in the administration of his estate.

Secretary Cortelyou, who is co-administrator with Judge Day, returned to Washington last night, but will come to Canton again in the course of a few days.

Mrs. McKinley is bearing well her trying ordeal of sadness. Her usual trip to the cemetery was taken yesterday morning and yesterday afternoon a drive was taken. Dr. Rixey said yesterday that Mrs. McKinley's condition was such that all her friends are very hopeful that no change for the worse will occur. She is able to sign all legal papers and is looking after such business matters as it is necessary for her to give personal attention to. Dr. Rixey said he had no apprehension of the near future and that the general health of Mrs. McKinley is as good as it was a year ago.

IN MEMORY OF GALLITZIN.

Gift of Schwab Turned Over to Congregation, at Loretto, Pa.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 2.—The church built by President Charles M. Schwab, of the United States Steel corporation, to commemorate the life and services of Prince Demetrius Gallitzin, the pioneer priest and patriot of the Catholic church in all the Allegheny region, was formally turned over to the congregation of St. Michael's church, at Loretto.

Among those present and participating in the ceremonies were Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; Bishop Garvey, of the new Altoona diocese; Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, and Bishop Shanahan, of Harrisburg.

Mr. Schwab, after the opening exercises, made an address, turning over to the congregation the church property, designed and perfected by himself. Archbishop Ireland replied to Mr. Schwab in accepting the gift on behalf of the congregation.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

G. E. Cresc has been appointed postmaster at Unity, Columbiana county. J. W. Redmond, a Steubenville barber, got intoxicated and was robbed of $278, all his savings.

Malin Jones, while picking peaches at Sharon, fell on a picket fence and is in a critical condition.

Thomas S. Cooper, a shoemaker, who has removed from Steubenville to Mingo Junction, is one of the heirs to a large estate in York county, Pa.

The bronze finished statue of John A. Bingham has been shipped from Salem to Cadiz, where it will be set up immediately. It will be unveiled on Saturday with a fitting demonstration.

Mrs. Ella Kauffman, of Beaver Falls, who killed James McCormick while he was fighting with her husband, who was trying to prevent McCormick from breaking into the Kauffman house, was exonerated by the coroner's jury.

The marriage of Henry W. Paull and Miss Louise Beall, at Belvedere, near Wellsburg, the country home of the bride, was the notable event of Saturday in Panhandle social circles. Two hundred and fifty invitations were issued.

Michael Monahan, of Bellaire, aged 48, was killed while on his way home from work by a Cleveland & Pittsburg railway switch engine. It was foggy and he walked in front of the engine, was knocked down and the wheels cut his head off.

The reopening exercises of the Christian church were held at New Cumberland on Sunday. There were representatives from all the nearby towns. Rev. Mr. Kerns, of Salineville, and Rev. Mr. Stivers, a former pastor, made addresses.

DENIALS BY EVANS

Of Conversations With Schley,
Intimated by Latter's Counsel.

HE CORROBORATED M'CALLA

As to What Occurred at a Council
Held on Schley's Flagship—Rayner
Reports of Evans and Sampson.

Washington, Oct. 2.—The Schley court of inquiry made good headway again, concluding with Admiral Evans and hearing three new witnesses, although the testimony of one of them was not concluded when the court adjourned until today. Admiral Evans' testimony was along the same general lines as was his statement of Monday, but some points were presented in greater detail in response to questions by Mr. Rayner. The new witnesses were Captain Sigsbee, who commanded the scout St. Paul during the Santiago campaign; Mr. Thomas M. Dieniaide, a newspaper correspondent, who was on the Texas during the battle of July 3, and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who was a clerk to Admiral Sampson during the war. The testimony of Evans was in part as follows:

Mr. Rayner began his interrogations by asking the witness concerning the secret code of signals for communicating with the Cuban insurgents near Cienfuegos. The admiral said that when Captain Chadwick communicated this code to him he did not instruct him to give the information to Commodore Schley.

Denied Intimated Conversations.

Later he asked: "Did you have a conversation with Commodore Schley on July 4, some time during the morning, between 8 and 12 o'clock, on the flagship at Santiago, in the course of which you used language as follows: 'Did you know that Captain Philip started to run away at the beginning of the battle?' and to which Commodore Schley replied, 'You are mistaken about that, Evans; I saw nothing of the kind. The Brooklyn made a turn and you must see the tactical situation that made it necessary.'"

"I do not remember being on board the Brooklyn on the 4th of July. I think it was the 5th at Guantanamo. I am quite positive I was not on board the Brooklyn off Santiago but once, and that was a long time before that. As to that conversation, I never said anything to the effect that Captain Philip had run away or attempted to run away. On thinking over last night, what did occur with reference to the Texas, I think Commodore Schley and I discussed the position of the Texas when the fight began. The Texas was lying with her head to the east when the engagement began and she turned with starboard beam and headed off in the same direction as the rest of us. She fired first with her port battery and then put her helm to starboard and headed in the same direction with the rest of the ships. I think that question I discussed with 'Commodore Schley. I cannot be sure of it, but that I ever intimated that Captain Philip attempted to run away with the Texas is preposterous on the face of it."

Didn't Use Such Language.

"Did you have a conversation with him on the same day, at the same place and at the same hour, or at any other place in which you used substantially the following language: 'I shot the bow off the Pluton, the stern off the Furor, put my helm to starboard and raked the Teresa and knocked out the Viscaya?'"

He questioned him about a conference on board the flagship Brooklyn on May 29, and at one point asked: "I want to call your attention to the report of Captain McCalla, of the Marblehead, which says: 'Commodore Schley explained to the commanding officers that in case the Spanish ships came out, he wished to concentrate the batteries of all our ships on a portion of those of the enemy. This was not explained as a tactical concentration of our whole force on a part of the enemy, but as a division of our whole fire on several of the enemy's ships. During the time the commanding officers were on board the flagship, Captain Evans asked Commodore Schley if it were his intention to steam at the enemy's ships in case they should start to come out. Commodore Schley answered, 'Certainly,' and added words indicative of his intention to attack them as they came out of the narrow cleft?'"

Supported McCalla's Statement.

"I recollect it perfectly."

"Is that a correct statement?"

"That is correct."

"So there was a plan of battle arranged by Commodore Schley, was there not?"

"There is nothing there to indicate it from what you have read."

"Was not that the same order that was afterward given by the commander-in-chief, substantially: 'Close in toward harbor entrance and attack them?'"

"You have not read anything about indicating any plan of battle."

Mr. Rayner—And added the words (reading) "indicative of his intention to attack them as they came out." I want to read you two reports, your report of the engagement of the Spanish squadron, and I would like you to tell me whether there is any conflict between them, and, if there is, which one of these statements, in your judgment, now is correct. (Reading.) "After having passed at 10:35 the Oquenda and Maria Teresa, on fire and ashore, this vessel continued to chase and fire upon the Viscaya until 10:36, when signal to cease firing was sounded on board, it having been discovered that the Viscaya had struck her colors." That was at

"I have no doubt you read it correctly."

"Which of these is correct? If there is a conflict between the commander-in-chief at the time that the Viscaya went ashore and your report, yours at 10:36 and his at 11:45, it becomes a material point to us which one of these specifications is correct."

"The time given in that report of mine was furnished by the navigator and executive officer of the ship. I, of course, did not take the time."

"While before Cienfuegos or on the way to Santiago did you have any orders for battle?" asked Mr. Hanna.

Had No Instructions.

"Had you any instructions as to what to do in case the enemy should appear?"

"We had not."

Mr. Thomas M. Dieniaide, who was on board the Texas during the Santiago campaign, was called. His testimony was in part:

Mr. Hanna—Did you see the Brooklyn at any time after the battle began?"

"I saw the Brooklyn about 10 or 15 minutes after the battle began."

"Where was she with respect to the Texas?"

"Off the port bow of the Texas."

"She was on a course about right angles to us at that moment. I have a note made at 9:50, in question marks: 'Stop both engines, helm hard starboard.'"

Rear Admiral Evans.

"Who gave that order?"

"Captain Philip."

"Where was the Brooklyn when that order was given?"

"I presume the Brooklyn was in front of the Texas. I saw her a moment later."

"Could you have been half a mile away?"

"I should think not; not anything like it. I would not suppose it was a quarter of a mile when I saw her. I was standing just aft of the conning tower, by the entrance. It was in that way I heard these orders given, and I wrote them down as Captain Philip gave them. I went around to the lee side of the conning tower to find out why we stopped. He (Captain Philip) waved his hand toward the Brooklyn and I saw her. He said, 'Look at that fellow going out to sea.'"

Admiral Dewey—Did you hear Captain Philip give any orders to back the engines?"

"No, sir. I do not remember that I did. I turned away almost immediately."

"I might and might not."

Admiral Dewey—You seem to have heard everything else."

Sigsbee Was on the Stand.

Captain Charles D. Sigsbee, who commanded the scout ship St. Paul during the Spanish war, was called. He said that in obedience to orders from Captain Wise, who was his commanding officer, he had proceeded to the vicinity of Santiago, arriving there on the 21st. His instructions were to report to Commodore Schley that the Spanish squadron probably was in Santiago harbor. He fell in with the flying squadron on the evening of May 26, the squadron then being 20 or 25 miles south of Santiago. He had reported to Commodore Schley that he "knew nothing positively" about the Spanish fleet.

He was then asked if he had expressed his belief to Commodore Schley that Cervera's fleet was not in the harbor, as reported later by Commodore Schley. A controversy arose over the admissibility of the question, and the court took a recess for luncheon before receiving the reply of the witness.

Captain Sigsbee was excused and Chief Yeoman Gustave E. Becker, who served as a clerk to Admiral Sampson on board the flagship New York during the Spanish war, was called. He identified the memorandum from Captain McCalla, saying there was a good landing place near Cienfuegos, which Admiral Sampson sent to Commodore Schley under date of May 19, and said that this memorandum had been carried in duplicate by the Iowa and the Dupont. Mr. Rayner questioned the witness very closely, bringing out the fact that Becker had no records to show that either of these vessels had carried the memorandum and that he was dependent upon his memory in making the statement.

Were There Four Copies?

Mr. Hanna said in this connection that the department expected to be able to show that four copies of this memorandum had been forwarded to Commodore Schley. Mr. Rayner responded that he would admit only one copy and that was the copy delivered by the Hawk on May 23, 1898.

5 NEGROES LYNCHED.

They Were Strung Up In Texas For the Shooting
of a Planter.

MORE LYNCHINGS MAY OCCUR.

Trouble Grew From Leasing of Land
to Blacks, Who Refused to Harvest Crops, or Permit the Owners to
Do So.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 2.—The details were beginning to reach Dallas of a race war in Harrison county, starting near Hallville, and spreading in all directions, in which five negroes have been lynched since last Saturday. The trouble is said to have started because negroes who had rented cotton lands from rich planters refused to harvest their crops, or permit the planters to get their shares of the yield.

A posse of white men went to the home of a negro, Thomas Walker, on the plantation of Julian Atwood. Walker fired on the white men, killing Atwood. During the early part of the chase that followed, one negro was caught and hanged. Two more were hanged on Sunday in the timber near the Gregg county line. George Muckleroy was taken out at night near Marshall and whipped to death. Taking it for granted that Thomas Walker has been lynched, the number of negroes killed is five, and Julian Atwood, the white man, makes the sixth victim of the tragedy.

All that has happened has taken place in a district not covered by telegraph or telephone, and such details as have come to hand are from responsible parties at Longview and Marshall. The people of the counties of Harrison and Gregg, both whites and blacks, are reported to be in a frenzy of excitement, and more lynchings are likely to occur.

The whites declare that the black renters have not only refused to gather their crops on shares, but have swindled them out of money loaned during the season, with which to purchase supplies.

POLISH ROMAN CATHOLIC UNION

Denounced Crime of Czolgosz—Declared No Pole Ever an Assassin.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The national convention of the Polish Roman Catholic Union of the United States opened in this city, with delegates present from all parts of the country. After mass had been celebrated at the Polish church the delegates were welcomed by Mayor James K. McGuire, the response being made by Peter Kielbassa, of Chicago. In his speech Mr. Kielbassa said:

"We abhor the crime of Czolgosz, but we are not responsible for it. Had his father been a good Catholic, the son would have been brought up in the faith of the church we revere. His mother was not a Pole. She is a German. Therefore, do not blame us. We have proved our loyalty on many a battlefield. Never was the hand of a Pole stained with the blood of assassination."

DR. RIXEY LEFT CANTON.

Mrs. McKinley's Friends Hopeful.
Cortelyou Also Left.

Canton, O., Oct. 2.—Dr. Rixey, Mrs. McKinley's physician, left Canton last night for Washington. In his absence she will be under the care of Drs. Phillips and Portman. Dr. Rixey will be available at any time and will come to Canton whenever his services are needed.

The affairs of the late president have been found to be in excellent condition and considerable progress has already been made in the administration of his estate.

Secretary Cortelyou, who is co-administrator with Judge Day, returned to Washington last night, but will come to Canton again in the course of a few days.

Mrs. McKinley is bearing well her urying ordeal of sadness. Her usual trip to the cemetery was taken yesterday morning and yesterday afternoon a drive was taken. Dr. Rixey said yesterday that Mrs. McKinley's condition was such that all her friends are very hopeful that no change for the worse will occur. She is able to sign all legal papers and is looking after such business matters as it is necessary for her to give personal attention to. Dr. Rixey said he had no apprehension of the near future and that the general health of Mrs. McKinley is as good as it was a year ago.

IN MEMORY OF GALLITZIN.

Gift of Schwab Turned Over to Congregation, at Loretto, Pa.

Johnstown, Pa., Oct. 2.—The church built by President Charles M. Schwab, of the United States Steel corporation, to commemorate the life and services of Prince Demetrius Gallitzin, the pioneer priest and patriarch of the Catholic church in all the Allegheny region, was formally turned over to the congregation of St. Michael's church, at Loretto.

Among those present and participating in the ceremonies were Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; Bishop Garvey, of the new Altoona diocese; Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, and Bishop Shanahan, of Harrisburg.

Mr. Schwab, after the opening exercises, made an address, turning over to the congregation the church property, designed and perfected by himself. Archbishop Ireland replied to Mr. Schwab in accepting the gift on behalf of the congregation.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

G. E. Cress has been appointed postmaster at Unity, Columbiana county. J. W. Redmond, a Steubenville barber, got intoxicated and was robbed of $278, all his savings.

Malin Jones, while picking peaches at Sharon, fell on a picket fence and is in a critical condition.

Thomas S. Cooper, a shoemaker, who has removed from Steubenville to Mingo Junction, is one of the heirs to a large estate in York county, Pa.

The bronze finished statue of John A. Bingham has been shipped from Salem to Cadiz, where it will be set up immediately. It will be unveiled on Saturday with a fitting demonstration.

Mrs. Ella Kauffman, of Beaver Falls, who killed James McCormick while he was fighting with her husband, who was trying to prevent McCormick from breaking into the Kauffman house, was exonerated by the coroner's jury.

The marriage of Henry W. Paul and Miss Louise Beall, at Belvedere, near Wellsburg, the country home of the bride, was the notable event of Saturday in Panhandle social circles. Two hundred and fifty invitations were issued.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR STATE OFFICERS:

Governor—GEORGE K. NASH.
Lieutenant Governor—CARL NIPPERT.
Judge of Supreme Court—JAMES L. PRICE.
Attorney General—JOHN M. SHEETS.
Clerk of Supreme Court—LAWSON E. EM-ERSON.
State Treasurer—ISAAC B. CAMERON.
Member Board of Public Works—W. G.
JOHNSON.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT.

Common Pleas Judge—H. W. HARTER.
State Senator—FRANK B. ARCHER.
State Senator—CHARLES C. CONNELL.
Representative—SAMUEL BUELL.
Representative—D. W. CRIST.
Sheriff—SAMUEL D. NORAGON.
Auditor—J. F. ADAMS.
Treasurer—W. A. THOMPSON.
Commissioner—EDEN REEDER.
Infirmity Director—G. W. ARMSTRONG.

The American Board of Foreign Missions has refused to pay the enormous ransom demanded by brigands for the return of Miss Stone, an American missionary who has been kidnaped on the borders of Turkey.
It is believed that the condemnation of the crime by the payment of the $150,000 demanded would be followed by the kidnaping of most of the missionaries now in Turkey and that the price of ransoming them would steadily appreciate. A better plan is to make a demand upon the Turkish government and enforce it with warships.
That is the sort of argument that engages the sultan's attention and about the only thing that will move him. American citizens should have protection in whatever part of the earth they choose to live. It is one of the disgraces of modern civilization that the so-called Turkish government is suffered to exist. The world would be the gainer if the sultan and his harem and all the other nurseries of vice and crime that flourish in that barbarous land could be dealt with by enlightened twentieth century law.
A concert of European powers to restore order in Turkey and give that benighted land a civilized government is one of the demands of the age.
But instead of concert there is discord and jealousy of all interference, and as a consequence a country that might be brought under the sway of the laws of progress is kept at the mercy of brigands, cut-throats and barbarians.

Those who argue that higher education has no influence in shaping a man's success in life should study a few statistics, presented in a recent number of the Outlook, by John W.
Leonard, editor of a volume entitled
"Who's Who in America." That volume contains the record of practically all living Americans of distinction.
There are 11,551 names in the book.
Of 9,760 who furnished educational data to the editor, about one half, or 4,521, are graduates of colleges and universities; 965 attended such institutions but were not graduated; 889 finished their schooling in academies and seminaries; 366 in foreign institutions; 327 were graduated from technical schools; 31 are self-taught and 808 have merely a common school education. The list also includes 717 medical graduates, 494 theological graduates and 521 law school graduates. Figures do not lie. Better proof that knowledge is power could not be had.

The longest automobile trip ever made in this country has just been concluded by Arthur J. Eddy, of Chicago. It extended from Chicago to
New England and covered over 2,600 miles. As a pleasure trip it was a success. The increasing use of automobiles on country roads is a happy

omen, as naturally all owners of horseless carriages become good roads advocates, and we cannot have too many enthusiasts on that subject.
The wheelmen of the country have done much in the past and are still doing much to promote scientific road-building. With the automobilists' aid enlisted in the same cause, the alliance ought to become powerfully influential.

The industrial commission is now holding its fall session. Under the law creating it, it passes out of existence December 15. It has collected a vast amount of information that ought to be valuable, if properly utilized.

It came near being a total Eclipse
for the East Liverpool base ball team.

The Shamrock is still the Shamrock II.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jane Grafton.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Grafton, who died yesterday morning at her home on West Third street, will take place from the Christian church, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev.
J. W. Gorrell, the pastor, officiating.
Mrs. Grafton was an old resident of the city and the widow of Charles Grafton, who died about 10 years ago.
She was born in Harrisburg, Pa., and was 85 years old. She is survived by five children, all of East Liverpool—
Mrs. Louisa Kirby, John, Mrs. Fannie
Powell, Joseph and William. Twenty grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren also survive her. She was an earnest member of the Christian church.

J. T. McKee.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—J. T. Mc-Kee, aged 55, died here yesterday afternoon. He was a saloon keeper in this town for many years. Some time ago he became afflicted with brain trouble and was adjudged an imbe-cile.

Miss Etta Seick.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Miss Etta Seick, aged 23, died here yesterday of typhoid pneumonia. She was taken ill three weeks ago in East Liverpool.

M'KINLEY'S HONOR

Local Red Med to Hold a Memorial Service Tomorrow
Evening.

Iroquois Tribe No. 40, Improved Order of Red Men, and their auxiliary,
Pocahontas Osceola council No. 8,
will hold a McKinley memorial service at their hall, West Market street, tomorrow evening.

Those in charge of the affair have arranged a very interesting program,
which includes addresses by Rev. C.
G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. Edwin Weary, of St. Stephen's church. The music will be in charge of Prof. Laughlin and will consist of solos, duets, quartets
and choruses.

The services will start promptly at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited.

RETURNED TO HIM

Sherman Reed Recovers the Property Stolen From His Place of Employment.

Officer Stafford arrested Wensel
Skyles last night on suspicion of having stolen a pistol, razor and other articles from Sherman Reed at the Arcade restaurant.

The missing property was returned to the owner and the case dismissed.

TO WED TONIGHT

Miss Sadie Shreeves And Charles
Kinsvater Will Marry.

Charles Kinsvater and Miss Sadie
Shreeves will be married this evening at the home of the bride's parents in this city. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. G. Reinartz in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Both are well known in this city,
where the groom has been employed as a grocery clerk, and the bride was a decorator at the Knowles, Taylor &
Knowles pottery. They will reside in East Liverpool.

POTTERY NEWS

The members of local union No. 53, moldmakers, of Wheeling, have elected the following officers for the ensuing term: John Fox, president; Leo Shelly, vice president; Fred Harpfer, corresponding and financial secretary; Charles A. Craig, treasurer; Edward J. Rothmyer, inspector; Joseph Berman, inside guard; John Fox, Fred Harpfer and C. A. Craig, trustees.

Harry Harris, formerly packer in the Steubenville pottery, has resigned his position and has accepted a packing job at the Toronto pottery.

INTEREST IN THE YACHT RACE

Took Many Stock Exchange Members
From Board Room Tuesday.
Trading Diminished.

New York, Oct. 2.—The lively interest in Tuesday's international yacht race took many stock exchange members away from the board room
and still further diminished the volume of trading. The day's aggregate sales were barely 300,000 shares and the fluctuation of prices was very narrow for the most part. The exceptions worthy of special note were in the industrial list and among the dormant and less important railroad stocks. Liquidation in Sugar was the feature of the market, following a sharp break in price Monday. The movement was one of its features.
The room traders joined in the selling
in an attempt to make a quick turn,
and their covering caused a rally of a point. The stock's extreme decline was 4 1/4. The general feeling of distrust of the blind pool methods of the great industrial corporations, which has reached an acute stage since the recent episode in Amalgamated Copper, was a factor in Sugar and in a number of other industrials. There were declines of 1/4 to 2 points in Brooklyn Transit, Colorado Fuel, National Salt, preferred, General Electric and American Express. The waiting attitude of the market was partly due to expectations of dividend action on the United States Steel stocks and the presentation of a promised financial statement. The non-appearance of this at the session grew toward its close emphasized the weakness of the industrials. Amalgamated Copper was rather firm, rising a point, then losing it, and stiffening again to about the best. Atchison was quite notably firm and gained a point on rumors that the directors would increase the semi-annual dividend rate to 2 per cent at a meeting today. There were some other firm spots in the railroad list, and the general undertone was rather firm on a belated recognition of Monday's important recuperation of money market resources by receipts of Australian and French gold. A rise in the New York exchange at Chicago to par
also indicated a mitigation of the interior pressure for currency. On the other hand, sterling exchange recovered a fraction, thus disappointing hopes of an immediate return to the gold import point. There was also a rise in call money in the late dealings to 4 1/2 per cent, which renewed the conjectures as to the cause of last week's loan expansion and its possible continuance.

The railroad bond market was dull
and irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,400,000.
United States refunding 2s advanced 1/8 per cent on the last call.

SEYMOUR FOR GOVERNOR.

Named at New Jersey Democratic Convention.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Mayor
James M. Seymour, of Newark, was nominated on the second ballot as the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey in a convention that at times was turbulent in the extreme, but which for all that was freer from the displays of ill temper
than is frequently the case with Democratic state conventions.

The nomination of Mayor Seymour
was a defeat for former United States Senator Smith and his forces and was a victory for F. F. C. Young and Robert Davis, of Hudson county, and Colonel E. L. Price, of Essex county.

The platform adopted was confined to state issues and embraced a general condemnation of Republicans in the conduct of state affairs.

His Cork Legs.

"Along about 1890," said a veteran physician, "I amputated the legs of a man who was blown up in a boiler explosion and helped him procure a couple of cork substitutes. As soon as he was able to be about he went fishing, fell in and was rescued just in the nick of time. He was laid up for several weeks and then sued me for damages."

"But why?"
"The cork legs stood him on his head

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Robert McElravy is visiting his parents at Carrollton.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hobbs left yesterday for a trip to Buffalo.

L. W. Healey left yesterday afternoon for a business trip to Cleveland.
Miss Clyde Young has returned
Young, Irwin, Pa.

Mrs. George Obney, of Pennsylvania avenue, is confined to her home with an attack of fever.

Mrs. Dr. Bindley, who has been very ill at her home on West Market street with typhoid fever, is slowly improving.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Gardner left yesterday afternoon for a trip through Iowa, Kansas and Missouri. They expect to be gone six weeks.

Miss Laura Chapson has returned to her home at Buffalo, after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boulton, Carolina avenue.

Prof. R. E. Rayman has recovered
from his recent attack of typhoid fever and is now afflicted with jaundice.
It will be some time before he is able
to resume his duties.

John G. Powell has returned from Lisbon this morning, where he has been looking after his business as administrator of the estate of the late
C. M. Dix. Mr. Powell left at noon for the East End, Pittsburgh, where he is employed as pressman in the office of the Journal.

A TITLED PLAYER.

Roosevelt's Cousin on the Stage.

Playing a minor role in the romantic drama "Don Caesar's Return" at one of the best of New York's theaters is a young woman who enjoys the double distinction of being a cousin of President Roosevelt and the wife of the German ambassador to China. Her nom de theatre is Maude Roosevelt.
Her real title, however, is the Baroness
Mumm von Schwarzenstein.

The baroness was formerly Maude
Roosevelt Le Vinsen, her parents being prominent society folk of New York.
She is a cousin of President Roosevelt,
for the grandfather of the latter and

SCHWARZENSTEIN.)

her grandmother were twins. Miss Le Vinsen was born in New York, but spent much of her life abroad. She is,
however, an enthusiastic American.

Among the most prominent members of the diplomatic set in Washington
four years or so ago was the Baron
Mumm von Schwarzenstein, who represented the German empire in the absence of Ambassador von Holleben.
The baron was smitten with the charms
of Miss Le Vinsen, and their engagement was announced in the spring of 1898 at a tea given by Mrs. McKinley.

Within a month after the published announcement of their marriage the baron and his wife separated, and the young bride returned to her home in New York. The reason for the separation is not known, but incompatibility of temperament is probably the cause. The baron, who ranks very high in the German diplomatic service, has since been ordered to Peking to succeed as ambassador the murdered Baron von Ketteler.

Miss Roosevelt, who is tall and graceful, possesses a well trained voice. She has been studying for the stage for some time. She has acquitted herself well and is assured of histrionic success if she remains on the stage. Her ambition is to appear in operatic roles.

The American Board of Foreign

Those who argue that higher educa-

man's success in life should study a
few statistics, presented in a recent
number of the Outlook, by John W.
Leonard, editor of a volume entitled
"Who's Who in America." That volume contains the record of practically all living Americans of distinction.
There are 11,551 names in the book.
Of 9,760 who furnished educational
data to the editor, about one half, or 4,521, are graduates of colleges and universities; 965 attended such institutions but were not graduated; 889

proof that knowledge is power could not be had.

The longest automobile trip ever made in this country has just been concluded by Arthur J. Eddy, of Chicago. It extended from Chicago to
New England and covered over 2,600
miles. As a pleasure trip it was a success. The increasing use of automobiles on country roads is a happy

omen, as naturally all owners of horseless carriages become good roads advocates, and we cannot have
too many enthusiasts on that subject.
The wheelmen of the country have done much in the past and are still doing much to promote scientific
road-building. With the automobilists
aid enlisted in the same cause, the alliance ought to become powerfully
influential.

The industrial commission is now
holding its fall session. Under the law creating it, it passes out of existence December 15. It has collected a vast amount of information that ought to be valuable, if properly utilized.

It came near being a total Eclipse
for the East Liverpool base ball team.

The Shamrock is still the Sham-
rock II.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jane Grafton.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Grafton, who died yesterday morning at her home on West Third street, will take place from the Christian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev.
J. W. Gorrell, the pastor, officiating.
Mrs. Grafton was an old resident of the city and the widow of Charles Grafton, who died about 10 years ago.
She was born in Harrisburg, Pa., and was 85 years old. She is survived by five children, all of East Liverpool—
Mrs. Louisa Kirby, John, Mrs. Fannie
Powell, Joseph and William. Twenty grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren also survive her. She was an earnest member of the Christian church.

J. T. McKee.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—J. T. Mc-Kee, aged 55, died here yesterday afternoon. He was a saloon keeper in this town for many years. Some time ago he became afflicted with brain
trouble and was adjudged an imbe-cile.

Miss Etta Seick.

Lisbon, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Miss Etta Seick, aged 23, died here yesterday of typhoid pneumonia. She was taken ill three weeks ago in East Liverpool.

M'KINLEY'S HONOR

Local Red Med to Hold a Memorial Service Tomorrow
Evening.

Iroquois Tribe No. 40, Improved Order of Red Men, and their auxiliary,
Pocahontas Osceola council No. 8,
will hold a McKinley memorial service
at their hall, West Market street, tomorrow evening.

Those in charge of the affair have arranged a very interesting program,
which includes addresses by Rev. C.
G. Jordan, of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. Edwin Weary, of St. Stephen's church. The music will be in charge of Prof. Laughlin and will consist of solos, duets, quartets
and choruses.

The services will start promptly at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited.

RETURNED TO HIM

Sherman Reed Recovers the Property Stolen From His Place of Employment.

Officer Stafford arrested Wensel
Skyles last night on suspicion of having stolen a pistol, razor and other articles from Sherman Reed at the Arcade restaurant.

The missing property was returned to the owner and the case dismissed.

Miss Sadie Shreeves And Charles
Kinsvater Will Marry.

Charles Kinsvater and Miss Sadie
Shreeves will be married this evening
at the home of the bride's parents
in this city. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. J. G. Reinartz in the presence of a few intimate friends.

Both are well known in this city,
where the groom has been employed as a grocery clerk, and the bride was
a decorator at the Knowles, Taylor &
Knowles pottery. They will reside in East Liverpool.

his position and has accepted a packing job at the Toronto pottery.

INTEREST IN THE YACHT RACE

Took Many Stock Exchange Members
From Board Room Tuesday.
Trading Diminished.

New York, Oct. 2.—The lively interest in Tuesday's international
yacht race took many stock exchange
members away from the board room
and still further diminished the volume of trading. The day's aggregate sales were barely 300,000 shares and
the fluctuation of prices was very narrow for the most part. The exceptions worthy of special note were in the industrial list and among the dormant and less important railroad
stocks. Liquidation in Sugar was the feature of the market, following a sharp break in price Monday. The usual lack of information regarding the movement was one of its features.
The room traders joined in the selling
in an attempt to make a quick turn,
and their covering caused a rally of a point. The stock's extreme decline was 4 1/2. The general feeling of distrust of the blind pool methods of the great industrial corporations, which has reached an acute stage since the recent episode in Amalgamated Copper, was a factor in Sugar and in a number of other industrials. There were declines of 1/2 to 2 points in Brooklyn Transit, Colorado Fuel, National Salt, preferred, General Electric and American Express. The waiting attitude of the market was partly due to expectations of dividend action on the United States
Steel stocks and the presentation of a promised financial statement. The non-appearance of this as the session grew toward its close emphasized the
weakness of the industrials. Amalgamated Copper was rather firm, rising a point, then losing it, and stiffening again to about the best. Atchison was quite notably firm and gained a point on rumors that the directors would increase the semi-annual dividend rate to 2 per cent at a meeting today. There were some other firm spots in the railroad list, and the general undertone was rather firm
on a belated recognition of Monday's important recuperation of money market resources by receipts of Australian and French gold. A rise in the New York exchange at Chicago to par
also indicated a mitigation of the interior pressure for currency. On the other hand, sterling exchange recovered a fraction, thus disappointing
hopes of an immediate return to the
a rise in call money in the late dealings to 4 1/2 per cent, which renewed
the conjectures as to the cause of last week's loan expansion and its possible
continuance.

The railroad bond market was dull
and irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,400,000.

United States refunding 2s advanced 1/4 per cent on the last call.

SEYMOUR FOR GOVERNOR.

Convention.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2.—Mayor
James M. Seymour, of Newark, was nominated on the second ballot as
the Democratic candidate for governor of New Jersey in a convention
that at times was turbulent in the extreme, but which for all that was freer from the displays of ill temper
than is frequently the case with Democratic state conventions.

The nomination of Mayor Seymour
was a defeat for former United States Senator Smith and his forces and was a victory for F. F. C. Young and Robert Davis, of Hudson county, and Colonel E. L. Price, of Essex county.

The platform adopted was confined to state issues and embraced a general condemnation of Republicans in the conduct of state affairs.

His Cork Legs.

"Along about 1890," said a veteran
physician, "I amputated the legs of a man who was blown up in a boiler explosion and helped him procure a couple of cork substitutes. As soon as he was able to be about he went fishing, fell in and was rescued just in the nick of time. He was laid up for several weeks and then sued me for damages."

"But why?"
"The cork legs stood him on his head

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Robert McElravy is visiting his parents at Carrollton.

Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Hobbs left yester-
day for a trip to Buffalo.

L. W. Healey left yesterday afternoon for a business trip to Cleveland.
Young, Irwin, Pa.

Mrs. George Obney, of Pennsylvania avenue, is confined to her home with
an attack of fever.

Mrs. Dr. Bindley, who has been very ill at her home on West Market street
with typhoid fever, is slowly improving.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Gardner left yesterday afternoon for a trip through Iowa, Kansas and Missouri. They expect to be gone six weeks.

Miss Laura Chapson has returned to her home at Buffalo, after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boulton, Carolina avenue.

Prof. R. E. Rayman has recovered
from his recent attack of typhoid fever and is now afflicted with jaundice.
It will be some time before he is able
to resume his duties.

John G. Powell has returned from Lisbon this morning, where he has been looking after his business as
C. M. Dix. Mr. Powell left at noon
for the East End, Pittsburgh, where he is employed as pressman in the office
of the Journal.

A TITLED PLAYER.

Roosevelt's Cousin on the Stage.

Playing a minor role in the romantic
drama "Don Caesar's Return" at one of the best of New York's theaters is
a young woman who enjoys the double distinction of being a cousin of President Roosevelt and the wife of the German ambassador to China. Her
nom de theatre is Maude Roosevelt.
Her real title, however, is the Baroness
Mumm von Schwarzenstein.

The baroness was formerly Maude
Roosevelt Le Vinsen, her parents being prominent society folk of New York.
She is a cousin of President Roosevelt,
for the grandfather of the latter and

SCHWARZENSTEIN.)

her grandmother were twins. Miss Le Vinsen was born in New York, but spent much of her life abroad. She is,
however, an enthusiastic American.

Among the most prominent members
of the diplomatic set in Washington
four years or so ago was the Baron
Mumm von Schwarzenstein, who represented the German empire in the absence of Ambassador von Holleben.
The baron was smitten with the charms
of Miss Le Vinsen, and their engagement was announced in the spring of 1898 at a tea given by Mrs. McKinley.
Within a month after the published announcement of their marriage the baron and his wife separated, and the young bride returned to her home in New York. The reason for the separation is not known, but incompatibility of temperament is probably the cause. The baron, who ranks very high in the German diplomatic service, has since been ordered to Peking to succeed as ambassador the murdered Baron von Ketteler.

Miss Roosevelt, who is tall and graceful, possesses a well trained voice. She has been studying for the
herself well and is assured of histrionic success if she remains on the stage. Her ambition is to appear in operatic roles.

COT A. BAD FALL

Edward Hargraves Painfully Injured While Unloading a Car.

The young man, who is a packer, was engaged in unloading a car of straw for use at the pottery when he missed his footing and fell between the car and the building. No serious injuries were received, but the skin was scraped from his legs and back in a number of places. He was able to return to work today.

Judgment by Default.

J. M. Shingleton, who was defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. M. E. Laughlin, failed to put in an appearance yesterday afternoon and the plaintiff was given judgment by default. The case was before Squire Johnston. Both parties are residents of Ohio and action was begun before Squire Rose at East Liverpool, against the plaintiff, for $30 damages, for attaching personal property and credit due her in West Virginia. The latter case will be heard tomorrow.

Chester Social Club.

The young men of Chester are at present organizing a club. It will be known as the Chester social club and they will have rooms in the Shrader building, Virginia avenue. At present there are 30 members, but they expect to start with 40.

Cow Killed By a Train.

A cow of Harry Moore, near Newell, was struck by the Panhandle early west bound train this morning and knocked from the track. Both hind legs of the animal were broken and it was necessary to shoot it.

Five Coons Captured.

J. Barnhart, Dick Johnson, Bill Messer and George Perry, of Liverpool, were coon hunting in the vicinity of Kendall postoffice, Pa., and succeeded in securing five coons.

Material for the Mill.

Three cars arrived at the mill this morning, one of annealing boxes, one of tin pans and one of sewer pipe.

CHESTER NOTES.

Mrs. James Gibson has returned from a visit with friends at New Cumberland.

Geo. A. Arner today purchased a fine team of horses from J. C. Anderson, of East Liverpool.

Word has been received from J. H. Maxwell and James Stewart, who have been hunting in the Cheat mountains, that they have left the hunting grounds and are on their way to Philadelphia.

A Wonderful Cure.

"My poor man," said one of the women sympathetically, "you seem to suffer agonies."

"Sure, now," he answered, "I have the rheumatism."

"Is there anything I could do for you?" asked the kind hearted woman.

"We-I-I," he slowly muttered the patient, "I would like to have my face shaved, but I haven't the coin."

Her wish was evidently gratified, for the next day when she called at the hospital to see the good effects of a shave on the rheumatic patient she was told that shortly after she had left on the previous day he had shown such marked improvement that he said he was able to get up and hurriedly left the hospital before a barber had been summoned. It was evident that the $2 bill had wrought the wonder.—Baltimore Sun.

BADLY DISFIGURED

A WEST END MAN WORSTED IN A CONFLICT.

His Better Half Threw a Lamp And He Was Knocked Down And Out.

The husband attended the theater in the evening and upon returning home was upbraided by his wife for remaining out so late. The young husband decided to try the old game of desertion, as it had often worked before. Accordingly he started for the door, declaring she would never see him again. Now it seems the lady of the house had wearied of the oft-repeated threat and had promised that the next time he attempted to work the gag she would give him something to remind him of the occasion.

When the stern master of the house reached the door he turned about to utter some parting word when he received a blow full in the face which knocked him down and out. He thought he had been kicked by a mule, but it was only the parlor lamp, and the aim of the usually sweet tempered wife had been excellent. The lamp struck the fellow on the bridge of the nose just between the eyes, and in less than it takes to tell it he had two beautiful black optics. As a result of it all the business place of the husband is closed indefinitely.

FAMED AS A "BOOMER."

Pan-American Press Agent Acting For the St. Louis Exposition.

By appointing Mark Bennett chief of the press bureau of the coming Louisiana Purchase Centennial exposition the managers of that enterprise have made a wise choice. Mr. Bennett is the man who has done more than any other to "boom" the Pan-American exposition. Much of the success of the great show is due to his well directed efforts. It is certain that before the Buffalo fair no great exposition was advertised so widely, so persistently or so successfully.

Mr. Bennett is still a young man, but he has had much experience as a journalist. He has in addition a thorough knowledge of the typographical art.

MARK BENNETT.

Mr. Bennett began newspaper work as a boy on the Herald of Hammond, Ind. A few years later he became reporter and editorial writer of the Elmira Gazette, leaving that paper to join the staff of the Buffalo Times. He afterward returned to Elmira to occupy the chair of city editor of The Advertiser. This he filled for five years. He then bought the Elmira Saturday Tidings and conducted it for a year. He sold out the paper to become managing editor of the Buffalo Times, which he left after five years to join the staff of The Courier.

Mr. Bennett had been one of the staff of writers of the Pan-American press bureau for several months before his appointment to its head in August, 1900. He at once adopted the methods that have proved so successful. He scattered broadcast throughout the United States every variety of matter that could induce people to visit the exposition, reaching them through daily, weekly and monthly publications.

Mr. Bennett's widespread acquaintance with newspaper men and with the press is of the greatest assistance to him in his work. His tactful conduct of the affairs of his bureau brings him the cordial co-operation of his fellow journalists, and his energy insures the permanency of his work. Although most of the Pan-American exposition advertising was done in English, some of Mr. Bennett's pamphlets were translated into Spanish, French and Portuguese. Many of the special Pan-American articles which he prepared were printed in every important town in the United States and reached an aggregate circulation of millions of copies.

Gold In California.

The Society of California Pioneers determined after careful investigation that Jan. 28, 1848, was the exact date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall. The gold was found in the rocky bed of the tail race of the Sutter sawmill at Coloma, on the south fork of the American river.

WELLSVILLE

REPORTED MISSING

Collector of a Wellsville Laundry Said to Be Short in Accounts.

Harry Thompson, employed as a driver and collector for the Ohio Valley Steam Laundry, is reported missing from the city. He is said to be short in his accounts. A warrant has been issued for his arrest.

The amount of his alleged shortage is not known, the proprietor saying he could give no estimate. The sum is not large.

Another Bowling Match.

The Lisbon bowling team, known as the "All Rights," and the Wellsville team will contest in Lisbon next Friday evening. The teams played at Wellsville Monday night and Lisbon won by 84 points.

Wreck Train Called.

The wreck train was called to Bayard last night to remove a freight engine that was off the track. No great damage was done.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Mrs. Peter Yonz went to Pittsburg this morning. Samuel McCormick was arrested last night for drunkenness.

CONFECTIONS FROM GRAIN.

Wheat and Malt Used in the Manufacture of Candy.

A manufacturing plant in New Jersey, formerly used as a manilla paper mill, is now operated by a corporation engaged in the unique industry of making confections from wheat and malt, about the last materials in the world one would expect to find in candy.

In the earlier stages of the process the grain is fanned, ground and mixed in proper proportions. Then it is cooked to a mash, from which a thin sirup is squeezed by hydraulic presses and conducted to a great iron evaporator. Thence the sirup is carried in pipes to a vacuum pan. Here it is vigorously stirred and further evaporated. The thickened sirup is drawn off into huge, shallow tin pans, where it is cooled and hardened. Plain or flavored with peppermint, the mass is a rich golden brown in color. Combined with chocolate it is dark as the familiar caramel in the candy shops.

They are fed to a cutting machine, a noisy little monster with an insatiable appetite for sweets. You could almost cover the machine with a hat, yet it turns out malt creamlets nearly as fast as a Maxim gun hurls a storm of bullets. The boys who carry the creamlets from the machine to the tables where they are wrapped have little time for meditation.—Chautauqua Herald.

EDITOR STOREY'S NOTION.

Theory on Which He Remitted a Fine and Raised a Salary.

"I was slashing copy on old Storey's Chicago Times many years ago," said one of the guests at a reunion dinner. "We had a correspondent in an Illinois town who simply would not schedule his matter, but as he generally sent good stuff we let him run on, slashing his stuff to suit the exigencies of the night. Besides, his stuff always suggested good headlines, and that was one of Storey's hobbies."

"On one occasion the correspondent sent up about 700 words which went into 100, with nothing over. On the 100 words I constructed a headline which was right up to the mark. The next day I was instructed to tell the man who made out the checks for the country correspondents to knock $5 off the correspondent's pay."

"When he received his check, he wrote to Mr. Storey saying that under ordinary circumstances he wouldn't kick about the deduction, but in this particular instance he did because the fool headline over the item made by a fool telegraph editor had infuriated the man whose name was mentioned in the dispatch and brought on a fight between him and the correspondent, the result of which was that the correspondent was fined $5 in the police court."

"Mr. Storey was a very just man when you got at him the right way. He instructed the cashier to send the correspondent the amount of the fine and raised my salary because the headline I wrote had caused a row. That was his way of encouraging a headline writer."—New York Sun.

EPISCOPAL CONFERENCE.

General Meeting Opens In San Francisco Today—Some Points "Come Up."

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The general conference of the Episcopal church was to open here today. The convention will be opened with impressive communion services in Trinity church, where the main convention is to be held. The convention will continue in session for 19 days, with various meetings. Prominent among the delegates who arrived yesterday were Bishop Potter, J. Pierpont Morgan and a party of eastern bishops and laymen, the guests of Mr. Morgan. The convention will be largely attended. Ninety bishops, 400 clergymen and 2,500 laymen are expected to be here.

The convention promises to be the most notable since the original convention, 112 years ago. Many important questions are scheduled for consideration. Foremost among them are the final acceptance of the constitution drafted by the convention at Washington, in 1898, and since carefully scrutinized by every diocese in the country; the canons, or laws of the church; the special report on the canon on marriage and divorce, as understood by the Episcopal church, and the church's course toward Porto Rico, the Philippines, Hawaii and Cuba.

According to the rules of the church, the convention is presided over by the bishop of longest service present. According to this rule, Bishop Tuttle, of Missouri, will be presiding bishop.

MINERS' SECRET CONFERENCE.

Believed Plans Were Considered For Thacker District, W. Va.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Oct. 2.—The leading representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, from all the coal mining states, had been in session at the Vanwinkle hotel here for several days and left last night, with the secrets of their sessions well kept. Nothing can be learned here by representatives of the operators or anyone else as to what matter was under consideration. The operators were inclined to believe that plans were discussed of special application to West Virginia, and at the same time that some movement was under way involving all of the mining districts. It is said that President Mitchell could not be present on account of sickness, but even this could not be confirmed from any of those who were in attendance. It is generally believed here that plans were considered for the relief of the Thacker district in West Virginia, where trouble between the miners and operators has existed for some time.

It is quite probable that the character of the proceedings will not become known until reported to the local unions from Indianapolis.

CONTEST WAS NO RACE.

Wind Not Favorable For Yachts to Compete.

New York, Oct. 2.—The attempt Tuesday to sail the second of the present series of international yacht races for the blue ribbon of the sea proved a dismal failure. Between 25,000 and 30,000 people who crowded the pleasure fleet off Sandy Hook lightship in the hope of seeing a repetition of the thrilling sport of last Saturday witnessed instead more of a drifting match than a race. The wind was exceedingly light and variable, at times falling so low that the goosamer wind pennants, which are as light as thistle down, hung limp against the masts of the big single stickers.

The wind, with crews lined up on the lee rails, was not sufficient at any time to make the racing machines heel to their lines. At the end of about four and a half hours the two yachts had covered less than half of the prescribed course of 30 miles, and as there was no possibility of their finishing within the time limit the regatta committee declared the race off. When the gun was fired announcing this decision the challenger was about half a mile ahead of the defender.

JOHNSON'S REQUEST REFUSED.

Ohio Board Decided It Hadn't Power to Increase Appraisements.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.—The state board of equalization decided that it had no power to increase the values of the railroads of Ohio, as appraised for purposes of taxation. The board was guided in this action by the opinion of the attorney general. A demand was made upon the board by Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland, that the appraisement of the railroads of the state be raised to 60 per cent of their value, as shown by the market value of their stocks and bonds.

He claimed that their present appraisement is only about 21 per cent of their value, computed on this basis. Mayor Johnson had previously declared that if the state board refused his demand he would bring mandamus proceedings to compel them to accede to it.

NOMINATION PAPERS FILED.

Candidates of Some Parties Registered Their Names at Harrisburg.

Harrisburg, Oct. 2.—The People's party filed nomination papers in the state department last night nominating Nathan L. Atwood, of Girard, Erie county, for state treasurer, and Justus Watkins, of Sullivan township, Tioga county, for supreme court judge.

Papers were filed by the Public Opinion party nominating the regular Republican state nominees, Frank A. Harris, of Clearfield, for state treasurer, and Judge William H. Potter, of Pittsburg, for supreme court judge.

The same party also filed papers nominating Judge Maxwell Stevenson for judge of common pleas court No. 5, of Philadelphia. Judge Stevenson is the regular Democratic nominee.

The Municipal league filed papers yesterday nominating the regular state candidates of the Union party, Judge Harman Yerkes, of Bucks county, for supreme court judge, and Representative Elisha A. Coray, Jr., of Luzerne county, for state treasurer.

A NEW FIRST LADY

SOMETHING ABOUT THE ARRIVING MISTRESS OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

Mrs. Roosevelt a Gentle, Home Loving Woman, Whose Chief Interests Are Her Husband and Children. She Dislikes Publicity.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, to whom fate has given the title of "first lady of the land," is a worthy successor, of the gentle woman whose occupancy of the White House has been terminated by the recent national tragedy. There are many points of similarity between the widow of the dead president and the wife of his successor. There is this difference—that while Mrs. McKinley has been an invalid for many years Mrs. Roosevelt is in the full bloom of health and strength. She is of course much younger than her predecessor.

When, in 1889, Theodore Roosevelt was married in London to Miss Edith Kermit Carow, he was a widower. His first wife was Miss Alice Lee of Boston, to whom he was married shortly after his graduation from Harvard. She died in 1883, leaving a daughter, Miss Alice. While abroad Mr. Roosevelt met again his present wife, with whom he had been acquainted since their early childhood. Miss Carow's family, one of distinction in New York, had been neighbors of the Roosevelts during the president's early days.

The president now has four sons and another daughter. The children are Alice, Theodore, Jr., Kermit, Ethel, Archibald and Quentin. Alice is eighteen, and the rest range from fourteen down to four. The Roosevelts are essentially a home loving family. Mrs. Roosevelt has always preferred the conduct of her family to the attractions of society. She has avoided publicity and has disliked the attention that her husband's official life has forced upon her. She is not, however, a recluse, and the entertainments given by her in the executive mansion of New York state were marked by the charm that betrayed a skilled, experienced hostess.

Since Mrs. Roosevelt has followed her husband's public career with close attention, she is deeply interested in politics, both American and foreign. She is a keen student of the world's affairs. The president, it is said, attaches great importance to his wife's opinions of men and affairs. Like Mrs. Grover Cleveland, the present "first lady of the land" has the happy faculty of never forgetting a face, and this trait has contributed immensely to her popularity. She is simple and dignified in manner, but not at all distant or haughty.

Mrs. Roosevelt is slightly under medium height and rather frail in appearance. She enjoys robust health and shares Mr. Roosevelt's instinctive aversion to medical men. Mrs. Roosevelt's complexion is fair, and her hair and eyes are brown. At a first glance one would say that the president's wife is about forty years old. Her face, although not handsome, gives decided evidence of strength and goodness. She is decidedly opposed to display in dress, and that of herself and her children is marked by simplicity both in material and coloring. For evening entertainments she dresses handsomely, but never with ostentation.

Mrs. Roosevelt is not a "clubwoman" in the popular acceptance of the term. She is a member of a few luncheon clubs and of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Although often urged to become a candidate for the presidency general of that order, she has steadfastly refused.

The chief interest of Mrs. Roosevelt's life has been the careful training of her children. She has earnestly desired to keep them out of public notice and has succeeded well enough to retain them unspoiled. She is also devoted to literature and reads much in English and in other languages. Mrs. Roosevelt is accredited with the authorship of a small volume of poems, privately printed and intended for circulation among her friends. She is also an expert needlewoman and delights in her skill.

In her social administration of the White House the wife of the president will be assisted by her stepdaughter, to whom she is devotedly attached and who reciprocates her mother's care and attention. Mr. Roosevelt's two sisters, who are the most intimate friends of his wife, will also be prominent. One is the wife of a naval officer, Commander W. S. Cowles, and the other is wedded to Douglas Robinson, a real estate man of New York.

HER WAY.

Eyes? Well, no, her eyes ain't much. Guess you seen a lot of such— Sort of small an' bluey gray. Tain't her eyes; it's jest her way.

Tain't her mouth—her mouth is wide, Sort of runs from side to side. See 'em better ev'ry day. Tain't her mouth; it's jest her way.

Nose? I reckon's nothin' great; Couldn't even swear it's straight; Fact, I feel I'm free to say. Tain't her nose; it's jest her way.

Love her? Well, I guess I do! Love her mighty fond and true; Love her better ev'ry day. Dunno why; it's jest her way. —The North Sylvester in Canbury.

COT A. BAD FALL

Edward Hargraves Painfully Injured While Unloading a Car.

The young man, who is a packer, was engaged in unloading a car of straw for use at the pottery when he missed his footing and fell between the car and the building. No serious injuries were received, but the skin was scraped from his legs and back in a number of places. He was able to return to work today.

Judgment by Default.

J. M. Shingleton, who was defendant in a suit brought by Mrs. M. E. Laughlin, failed to put in an appearance yesterday afternoon and the plaintiff was given judgment by default. The case was before Squire Johnston. Both parties are residents of Ohio and action was begun before Squire Rose at East Liverpool, against the plaintiff, for $30 damages, for attaching personal property and credit due her in West Virginia. The latter case will be heard tomorrow.

Geo. A. Arner today purchased a fine team of horses from J. C. Anderson, of East Liverpool.

Word has been received from J. H. Maxwell and James Stewart, who have been hunting in the Cheat mountains, that they have left the hunting grounds and are on their way to Philadelphia.

A Wonderful Cure.

Some charitable women were recently inspecting the wards of a Baltimore hospital when they chanced to see a poor fellow, the expression of whose face melted their hearts.

"My poor man," said one of the women sympathetically, "you seem to suffer agonies."

"Sure, maw," he answered, "I have the rheumatism."

"Is there anything I could do for you?" asked the kind hearted woman.

Her wish was evidently gratified, for the next day when she called at the hospital to see the good effects of a shave on the rheumatic patient she was told that shortly after she had left on the previous day he had shown such marked improvement that he said he was able to get up and hurriedly left the hospital before a barber had been summoned. It was evident that the $2 bill had wrought the wonder.—Baltimore Sun.

BADLY DISFIGURED

A WEST END MAN WORSTED IN A CONFLICT.

His Better Half Threw a Lamp And He Was Knocked Down And Out.

A family disturbance in the west end of the city at a late hour Monday night resulted in the man of the house being badly disfigured at the hands of his wife.

The husband attended the theater in the evening and upon returning home was upbraided by his wife for remaining out so late. The young husband decided to try the old game of desertion, as it had often worked before. Accordingly he started for the door, declaring she would never see him again. Now it seems the lady of the house had wearied of the oft-repeated threat and had promised that the next time he attempted to work the gag she would give him something to remind him of the occasion.

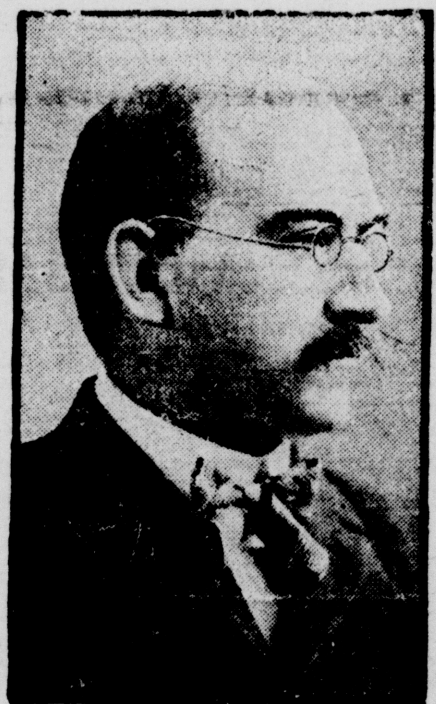

When the stern master of the house reached the door he turned about to utter some parting word when he received a blow full in the face which knocked him down and out. He thought he had been kicked by a mule, but it was only the parlor lamp, and the aim of the usually sweet tempered wife had been excellent. The lamp struck the fellow on the bridge of the nose just between the eyes, and in less than it takes to tell it he had two beautiful black optics. As a result of it all the business place of the husband is closed indefinitely.

FAMED AS A "BOOMER."

Pan-American Press Agent Acting For the St. Louis Exposition.

By appointing Mark Bennett chief of the press bureau of the coming Louisiana Purchase Centennial exposition the managers of that enterprise have made a wise choice. Mr. Bennett is the man who has done more than any other to "boom" the Pan-American exposition. Much of the success of the great show is due to his well directed efforts. It is certain that before the Buffalo fair no great exposition was advertised so widely, so persistently or so successfully.

Mr. Bennett is still a young man, but he has had much experience as a journalist. He has acquired a thorough knowledge of the typographical art.

MARK BENNETT.

Mr. Bennett began newspaper work as a boy on the Herald of Hammondsport, N. Y. A few years later he became reporter and editorial writer of the Elmira Gazette, leaving that paper to join the staff of the Buffalo Times. He afterward returned to Elmira to occupy the chair of city editor of The Advertiser. This he filled for five years. He then bought the Elmira Saturday Tidings and conducted it for a year. He sold out the paper to become managing editor of the Buffalo Times, which he left after five years to join the staff of The Courier.

Mr. Bennett had been one of the staff of writers of the Pan-American press bureau for several months before his appointment to its head in August, 1900. He at once adopted the methods that have proved so successful. He scattered broadcast throughout the United States every variety of matter that could induce people to visit the exposition, reaching them through daily, weekly and monthly publications.

Mr. Bennett's widespread acquaintance with newspaper men and with the press is of the greatest assistance to him in his work. His tactful conduct of the affairs of his bureau brings him the cordial co-operation of his fellow journalists, and his energy insures the permanency of his work. Although most of the Pan-American exposition advertising was done in English, some of Mr. Bennett's pamphlets were translated into Spanish, French and Portuguese. Many of the special Pan-American articles which he prepared were printed in every important town in the United States and reached an aggregate circulation of millions of copies.

Gold in California.

The Society of California Pioneers determined after careful investigation that Jan. 28, 1848, was the exact date of the discovery of gold in California by James W. Marshall. The gold was found in the rocky bed of the tail race of the Sutter sawmill at Coloma, on the south fork of the American river.

CONFECTIONS FROM GRAIN.

Wheat and Malt Used in the Manufacture of Candy.

A manufacturing plant in New Jersey, formerly used as a manilla paper mill, is now operated by a corporation engaged in the unique industry of making confections from wheat and malt, about the last materials in the world one would expect to find in candy.

In the earlier stages of the process the grain is fanned, ground and mixed in proper proportions. Then it is cooked to a mash, from which a thin sirup is squeezed by hydraulic presses and conducted to a great iron evaporator. Thence the sirup is carried in pipes to a vacuum pan. Here it is vigorously stirred and further evaporated. The thickened sirup is drawn off into huge, shallow tin pans, where it is cooled and hardened. Plain or flavored with peppermint, the mass is a rich golden brown in color. Combined with chocolate it is dark as the familiar caramel in the candy shops.

When a batch of goods is needed for the market, the stock in the pans is broken into pieces and put into a boiler surrounded by a steam jacket. It is reduced by heat to the consistency of taffy at an old fashioned candy pull. Skilled workmen shape the mass into long strips that lie like golden snakes on a board table.

They are fed to a cutting machine, a noisy little monster with an insatiable appetite for sweets. You could almost cover the machine with a hat, yet it turns out malt creamlets nearly as fast as a Maxim gun hurls a storm of bullets. The boys who carry the creamlets from the machine to the tables where they are wrapped have little time for meditation.—Chautauqua Herald.

Theory on Which He Remitted a Fine and Raised a Salary.

Wind Not Favorable For Yachts to Complete.

New York, Oct. 2.—The attempt Tuesday to sail the second of the present series of international yacht races for the blue ribbon of the sea proved a dismal failure. ## JOHNSON'S REQUEST REFUSED.

Ohio Board Decided It Hadn't Power to Increase Appraisements.

Columbus, O., Oct. 1.—The state board of equalization decided that it had no power to increase the values of the railroads of Ohio, as appraised for purposes of taxation. The board was guided in this action by the opinion of the attorney general. A demand was made upon the board by Mayor Johnson, of Cleveland, that the appraisement of the railroads of the state be raised to 60 per cent of their value, as shown by the market value of their stocks and bonds.

He claimed that their present appraisement is only about 21 per cent of their value, computed on this basis. Mayor Johnson had previously declared that if the state board refused his demand he would bring mandamus proceedings to compel them to accede to it.

Harrisburg, Oct. 2.—The People's party filed nomination papers in the state department last night nominating Nathan L. Atwood, of Girard, Erie county, for state treasurer, and Justus Watkins, of Sullivan township, Tioga county, for supreme court judge.

Papers were filed by the Public Opinion party nominating the regular Republican state nominees, Frank A. Harris, of Clearfield, for state treasurer, and Judge William H. Potter, of Pittsburg, for supreme court judge.

The same party also filed papers nominating Judge Maxwell Stevenson for judge of common pleas court No. 5, of Philadelphia. Judge Stevenson is the regular Democratic nominee.

The Municipal league filed papers yesterday nominating the regular state candidates of the Union party, Judge Harman Yerkes, of Bucks county, for supreme court judge, and Representative Elisha A. Coray, Jr., of Luzerne county, for state treasurer.

A NEW FIRST LADY

Mrs. Roosevelt a Gentle, Home Loving Woman, Whose Chief Interests Are Her Husband and Children. She Dislikes "Politely."

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, to whom fate has given the title of "first lady of the land," is a worthy successor of the gentle woman whose occupancy of the White House has been terminated by the recent national tragedy. There are many points of similarity between the widow of the dead president and the wife of his successor. There is this difference—that while Mrs. McKinley has been an invalid for many years Mrs. Roosevelt is in the full bloom of health and strength. She is of course much younger than her predecessor.

When, in 1885, Theodore Roosevelt was married in London to Miss Edith Kermit Carow, he was a widower. His first wife was Miss Alice Lee of Boston, to whom he was married shortly after his graduation from Harvard. She died in 1883, leaving a daughter, Miss Alice. While abroad Mr. Roosevelt met again his present wife, with whom he had been acquainted since their early childhood. Miss Carow's family, one of distinction in New York, had been neighbors of the Roosevelts during the president's early days.

The president now has four sons and another daughter. The children are Alice, Theodore, Jr., Kermit, Ethel, Archibald and Quentin. Alice is eighteen, and the rest range from fourteen down to four. The Roosevelts are essentially a home loving family. Mrs. Roosevelt has always preferred to conduct of her family to the attractions of society. She has avoided publicity and has disliked the attention that her husband's official life has forced upon her. She is not, however, a recluse, and the entertainments given by her in the executive mansion of New York state were marked by the charm that betrayed a skilled, experienced hostess.

Since Mrs. Roosevelt has followed her husband's public career with close attention, she is deeply interested in politics, both American and foreign. She is a keen student of the world's affairs. The president, it is said, attaches great importance to his wife's opinions of men and affairs. Like Mrs. Grover Cleveland, the present "first lady of the land" has the happy faculty of never forgetting a face, and this trait has contributed immensely to her popularity. She is simple and dignified in manner, but not at all distant or haughty.

Mrs. Roosevelt is slightly under medium height and rather frail in appearance. She enjoys robust health and shares Mr. Roosevelt's instinctive aversion to medical men. Mrs. Roosevelt's complexion is fair, and her hair and eyes are brown. At a first glance one would say that the president's wife is about forty years old. Her face, although not handsome, gives decided evidence of strength and goodness. She is decidedly opposed to display in dress, and that of herself and her children is marked by simplicity both in material and coloring. For evening entertainments she dresses handsomely, but never with ostentation.

Mrs. Roosevelt is not a "clubwoman" in the popular acceptance of the term. She is a member of a few luncheon clubs and of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Although often urged to become a candidate for the presidency general of that order, she has steadfastly refused.

The chief interest of Mrs. Roosevelt's life has been the careful training of her children. She has earnestly desired to keep them out of public notice and has succeeded well enough to retain them unspoiled. She is also devoted to literature and reads much in English and in other languages. Mrs. Roosevelt is accredited with the authorship of a small volume of poems, privately printed and intended for circulation among her friends. She is also an expert needlewoman and delights in her skill.

In her social administration of the White House the wife of the president will be assisted by her stepdaughter, to whom she is devotedly attached and who reciprocates her mother's care and attention. Mr. Roosevelt's two sisters, who are the most intimate friends of his wife, will also be prominent. One is the wife of a naval officer, Commander W. S. Cowles, and the other is wedded to Douglas Robinson, a real estate man of New York.

HER WAY.

Eyes? Well, no, her eyes ain't much. Guess you seen a lot of such—Sort of small an' bluey gray. Tain't her eyes; it's jest her way.

Hair ain't black, nor even brown; Got no gold upon her crown; Sort of ashy, I should say. Tain't her hair; it's jest her way.

Tain't her mouth—her mouth is wide, Sort of runs from side to side. See 'em better ev'ry day. Tain't her mouth; it's jest her way.

Nose I reckon's nothin' great; Couldn't even swear it's straight; Fact, I feel I'm free to say. Tain't her nose; it's jest her way.

...AT THE...

PAN-AMERICAN

AT Chicago October was the great month in point of attendance at the World's fair. There is every reason to believe the same result will come to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, where October is always a month of delightful weather. The Exposition in point of beauty and interest is at its climax, and the programme of special events is such as to attract and please. September started with great crowds, and only the tragedy in the Temple of Music, which stunned and shocked a world, halted an overwhelming success in that month. The Exposition management as a tribute of respect closed the gates for one day, Thursday, when the state funeral of the third martyred president took place. The crowds since then have poured to Buffalo. The Temple of Music, now hallowed and historic ground, has been the Mecca of thousands.

Buffalo has demonstrated her ability to care for great crowds satisfactorily, not only in hauling them to the Exposition by street car and steam railway at a fare of but 5 cents from any part of the city, but to house and feed them at prices in the reach of all. The stories of exorbitant prices were long ago shown to be fables, and every visitor who makes the slightest effort to get accommodation can do so wholly within his means.

The Exposition itself, with its beautiful buildings, its coloring by day, its magic lighting at night, its walks and courts, its canals and lakes, its fountains and statuary, its exhibits and its amusements, has been a delight to the 600,000 visitors who have already been to the Pan-American.

The Exposition Company opened up the month of October, beginning Monday, Sept. 30, with a Carnival week of splendid events, including a baby coach parade, with 3,000 school children singing in the procession, a monster pageant with the floats used in the New Orleans Mardi Gras and allegorical parade and the feature of the beautiful floral parade at Saratoga. These will take place on Thursday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 5, but every day from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5 will be replete with interest. Special fireworks on the lake, with decorated and illuminated launches in a procession of fiery grandeur, will afford new and wonderful sensations to the visitors.

Thus October will be ushered in with a programme so arranged as to give the American public a delightful week. The life saving drill, daily, has become one of the great attractions of the Exposition. It tells the story of the work of the heroic men who guard the shores of ocean and great lakes, always on the alert to drag from death's brink the shipwrecked sailor or passengers. The model camp of United States marines, the seacoast guns, the ordnance and all the exhibits showing war's panoply and our defensive measures have been a great educator to thousands of visitors. Some military company is always encamped in the park, and that part of the grounds is never without interest.

With the magnificent exhibit of the United States Government and the South and Central American States' buildings every visitor can spend a day. No exposition has ever provided in so compact a space, with such beauty of architecture and with so much care for the comfort of the visitor, so much. All exhibit buildings are free, including the Stadium, the great amphitheater, the art gallery, state buildings, and never was so much given for so little.

The gorgeous pyrotechnics—and no exposition has ever been so lavish in the display of fireworks—are free to all Exposition visitors. The programme provided by Pain in October includes the magnificent water carnival with gorgeous ballet, wonderful figures in liquid fire, and aerial bombs and rockets of startling beauty and mystifying construction.

To the millions interested in agriculture, stock and poultry rearing, the Pan-American Exposition especially appeals. The cattle show was a tremendous success and the sheep show, beginning Sept. 23 and continuing to Oct. 25, has proved an attraction for those interested, from every section from Maine to California and Canada. Among the states represented are Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Vermont, Ohio, New Jersey, Texas and Missouri. Of the total number of flocks on exhibition twenty-seven have been sent here from the Dominion of Canada, most of the exhibitors being located in the province of Ontario. The province of Quebec is also represented. During the course of the sheep show there will be held in the New York State building a series of meetings of prominent North and South American sheep breeders.

The Buffalo Review of Sept. 24 said that "this ought to be a great time for the farmers to visit the Pan-American. Every farmer in New York State, not to mention those in other parts of the country, ought to see the attractions of the Rainbow City during the next three or four weeks."

"The cattle show last week was a big feature of the Exposition, and this week there is a great sheep show in progress."

"The New York State farmers and the sheep raisers from other states will find it most interesting to compare the South American breeds with those of North America."

"It will surprise many to learn that the pavilions for animals at the Pan-American cover ten acres and are capable of housing 35,000 animals."

The programme for October so far as made up at this time is as follows:

Can Care For 250,000.

Director General Buchanan says the only problem now confronting the Exposition is how to find days enough within the closing weeks to adequately take care of the many attractions and features now being planned. He predicts a great attendance during the month of October and one far in excess of the highest estimates that have been made by the most sanguine. In answer to the inquiry as to whether or not Buffalo could take care of the crowds, he said there was no difficulty whatever in this regard; that Buffalo could easily care for 250,000 strangers every day comfortably and at reasonable prices.

In the Music Temple.

The organ recitals in the Temple of Music are daily features of the Pan-American Exposition. Many celebrated organists are on the programme for October. Victor Herbert's famous orchestra will be at the Temple of Music from Oct. 14 to the close of the Exposition.

A GIRL'S EVENING DRESS.

A Pretty Gown, Cost $1—How to Buy and How to Make It.

There has never been a time when simplicity has been held to be more adorable than at present—simplicity when utilized in connection with youth—says a writer in The New Idea Woman's Magazine in preface to the following little story of "A One Dollar Evening Gown."

One of the dearest girls in the world—she is my neighbor, and we are on rather familiar terms—has been obliged to refuse an invitation to a summer resort for a fortnight for the simple reason that she has nothing to wear for evening.

Now, a grown up woman who needs certain things according to the mode to fitly adorn her cannot imagine why a young girl with a fair face, bright eyes, a lithe figure and a general composite of youthful attractions must remain at home from an outing among even pretentious people simply because she has no evening gown. So we forthwith solved the problem.

No one knows better than a grown up woman that youth is the adornment of the gown—not the gown the sole adornment of youth. This last is the foundation of the proposition of an evening dress for the sum of $1. When my neighbor goes away, she will pack in her trunk among all the girlish attire two muslin gowns, each one of which cost not more than the trifling sum mentioned—gowns which she made with her own hands and in which she will appear at the evening dances.

One of the gowns in question is a white dimity, having a tiny polka dot of red. The dimity cost 7 cents a yard and ten yards were required. The red was selected because it belonged with her special type, which is dark hair and eyes and a complexion to correspond. Yellow would have looked equally well perhaps, but we chose the red because it is her favorite color. We had a choice of printed batiste at 6 cents and also of cotton crepon at the same price.

The first thing to be considered in this gown is the petticoat to be worn with it. It must be a trained skirt of exactly the same length as the outer skirt, so as to give the latter sufficient body to hang just right. Fortunately she possessed such a skirt; but even if she had not we should have pieced down one to make it do, or we should have applied a circular trimmed flounce of muslin to an ordinary petticoat.

Then came the dress skirt. It was a simple affair with a demitrain and trimmed with a circular flounce. We bought some baby ribbon at a cent a yard, to sew on the edge of the flounce; but even if we had had no ribbon the gown would have passed muster. Of course the ribbon improved it.

The waist was the simplest affair imaginable. We cut it from an ordinary waist pattern, allowing extra goods in the back and front by laying a fold in the goods before placing the pattern and then rounding out the neck in a semicircular fashion. There was no lining in the waist, merely a ribbon ruching around the neck. The sleeve was simplicity itself, a mere cap of a sleeve made to fit the shoulder closely. The sleeve might have been made in a puff, but the severe sleeve was the choice of this particular girl. An elbow sleeve is also appropriate. We had 30 cents left with which to purchase the ribbon.

My neighbor plans to wear a white silk sash with this gown, because she has the sash, but a belt of red ribbon would answer every purpose.

The other gown is a cheap dotted muslin in white and also cost 7 cents a yard. It is a reproduction of the first gown in style of making, with the exception of the puffed sleeve and a change of color in the ribbons.

Notes From the Southern Jeweler.

Signet rings remain very popular.

Watch fobs find more wearers every day.

Flower rings are an English idea of the "new art" variety.

Thumb ring purses are latest among the many clever novelties.

"All the rings on one hand only"—the left of course—is now the dictum.

An original notion is a necklace of rings threaded on to interlaced ribbons.

Taking bangles are set with double hearts surmounted by a true lover's knot.

Brakes Needed For The Middle Aged

As one approaches the middle milestone in life he must adjust himself to changing conditions. He must then, if ever, realize the importance of elimination, OF EATING LESS AND WORKING LESS. In other words, as he advances along down the hill of life he should cultivate an ability to put on the brakes, be satisfied to do less work, but better work—indeed DO LESS OF EVERYTHING AND TRY TO DO IT BETTER.

By Dr.
I. N. LOVE
Of
New York

You ask, When is the middle milestone reached? It varies in different individuals. It ranges from the fortieth to the sixtieth birthday. Some men by inheritance and others by habits of life have moved more rapidly than others toward this point. It has been said that a woman is as old as she looks and a man as old as he feels, but as a matter of fact both are as old as their arteries. In other words, the elasticity of their arteries and other parts of their structures is an expression of their youthfulness.

On general principles one at this time should make no radical change in the habits of living.

IT IS A GREAT MISTAKE TO ATTEMPT TO REDUCE RAPIDLY AN ACCUMULATION OF FAT WHICH IS THE RESULT OF YEARS OF EXCESSIVE EATING AND LACK OF PROPER EXERCISE.

A man of 50 should limit his diet to almost half what it was when he was 30 or during the growing period. He should drink large quantities of water, for water is the greatest eliminator of accumulating poisons. If you would wish to wash out the earthy materials which tend toward stiffness and brittleness of the arteries and joints, use the greatest solvent of earthy salts we have—namely, PURE WATER.

A judicious amount of exercise should be indulged in. Excessive athletics is always objectionable to the young and the old as well. Free indulgence in walking out in the open air is excellent. The city streets will do for this. Horseback riding is good. All of these should be indulged temperately and the increase gradual.

Temperance in all things is the great essential. Radical abstemiousness either in diet or drink is not called for, but I do believe that as we approach the middle of life the use of alcohol should be diminished rather than increased, and unless this can be done gracefully alcohol should be ruled out altogether.

A man as he approaches middle life needs some stimulant or nerve bracer. Probably tobacco, judiciously indulged, is the least harmful.

BUT IN EXCESS I BELIEVE IT IS MORE DANGEROUS THAN ALCOHOL BECAUSE IT IS MORE RESPECTABLE AND HARDER TO AVOID.

THE MENACE OF MORMONISM

By Mrs. ANNIE M'KEAN WHITE

THE Mormons control Utah absolutely. They have the balance of power under normal conditions in Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. They have strong colonies in Oregon, California, Washington and Montana.

WHEN THE TIME ARRIVES, THEY WILL VIRTUALLY CONTROL ELEVEN STATES INSTEAD OF NINE, two less than necessary to enable them to prevent any constitutional amendment.

All they ask is for Christian America to remain indifferent several years. They will do the rest.

A movement for a constitutional amendment should have been made immediately following the Roberts controversy, but the interdenominational council of women is now working for this end, and this fall the active campaign will begin. It will be waged by Christian American women stronger than the warfare against Roberts.

Congress must act in the coming session, and the polygamy question will then be settled forever.

SHOULD CONGRESS SHIRK THEN ONLY A FIERCE RELIGIOUS WAR WILL WIPE FROM AMERICAN LIFE THIS INFAMOUS STAIN WHICH IS THROWN UP TO OUR MISSIONARIES IN CHINA AND INDIA.

Hawaiian Islands Come High, But Are Worth the Price

By W. F. MACLENNAN, Of the U. S. Treasury Department.

FROM what I saw, the Hawaiian Islands will cost the United States a vast sum of money before they are completely Americanized. American institutions, while making rapid inroads, are not yet as thoroughly established as they might be, but of course it requires time for such developments, and altogether the progress made in this direction is satisfactory.

While Hawaii will cost this government a great amount of money, there is everything to lead to the belief that we will receive in return equal benefit in one form or another as an inevitable result.

The sugar raising industry in the islands is pursued with remarkable profit. It is estimated that some of the plantations there yield an annual gain of 80 per cent, while very few pay their owners less than 20 per cent. This is an enormous rate of profit—so great, in fact, that almost every bit of available land is utilized in sugar raising. The result is that very little territory is left for the production of other necessities.

IT IS A REMARKABLE BUT NONE THE LESS ACTUAL FACT THAT ALMOST EVERYTHING THAT IS USED UPON THE HAWAIIAN DINING TABLE IS PRODUCED IN THE UNITED STATES.

OCTOBER DAYS

...AT THE...

PAN-AMERICAN

AT Chicago October was the great month in point of attendance at the World's fair. There is every reason to believe the same result will come to the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, where October is always a month of delightful weather. The Exposition in point of beauty and interest is at its climax, and the programme of special events is such as to attract and please. September started with great crowds, and only the tragedy in the Temple of Music, which stunned and shocked a world, halted an overwhelming success in that month. The Exposition management as a tribute of respect closed the gates for one day, Thursday, when the state funeral of the third martyred president took place. The crowds since then have poured to Buffalo. The Temple of Music, now hallowed and historic ground, has been the Mecca of thousands.

Buffalo has demonstrated her ability to care for great crowds satisfactorily, not only in hauling them to the Exposition by street car and steam railway at a fare of but 5 cents from any part of the city, but to house and feed them at prices in the reach of all. The stories of exorbitant prices were long ago shown to be fables, and every visitor who makes the slightest effort to get accommodation can do so wholly without his means.

The Exposition itself, with its beautiful buildings, its coloring by day, its magic lighting at night, its walks and courts, its canals and lakes, its fountains and statuary, its exhibits and its amusements, has been a delight to the 6,000,000 visitors who have already been to the Pan-American.

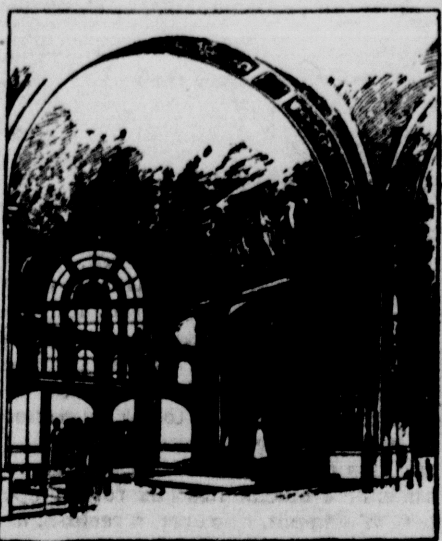

The Exposition Company opened up the month of October, beginning Monday, Sept. 30, with a Carnival week of splendid events, including a baby coach parade, with 3,000 school children singing in the procession, a monster pageant with the floats used in the New Orleans Mardi Gras and allegorical parade and the feature of the beautiful floral parade at Saratoga. These will take place on Thursday and Saturday, Oct. 3 and 5, but every day from Sept. 30 to Oct. 5 will be replete with interest. Special fireworks on the lake, with decorated and illuminated launches in a procession of fiery grandeur, will afford new and wonderful sensations to the visitors.

The life saving drill, daily, has become one of the great attractions of the Exposition. It tells the story of the work of the heroic men who guard the shores of ocean and great lakes, always on the alert to drag from death's brink the shipwrecked sailor or passengers. The model camp of United States marines, the seacoast guns, the ordinance and all the exhibits showing war's panoply and our defensive measures have been a great educator to thousands of visitors. Some military company is always encamped in the park, and that part of the grounds is never without interest.

With the magnificent exhibit of the United States Government and the South and Central American States' buildings every visitor can spend a day. No exposition has ever provided in so compact a space, with such beauty of architecture and with so beginning Sept. 23 and continuing to Oct. 25, has proved an attraction for those interested, from every section from Maine to California and Canada. Among the states represented are Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Vermont, Ohio, New Jersey, Texas and Missouri. Of the total number of flocks on exhibition twenty-seven have been sent here from the Dominion of Canada, most of the exhibitors being located in the province of Ontario. The province of Quebec is also represented. During the course of the sheep show there will be held in the New York State building a series of meetings of prominent North and South American sheep breeders.

The Buffalo Review of Sept. 24 said that "this ought to be a great time for the farmers to visit the Pan-American. Every farmer in New York State, not to mention those in other parts of the country, ought to see the attractions of the Rainbow City during the next three or four weeks."

"The cattle show last week was a big feature of the Exposition, and this week there is a great sheep show in progress."

"The New York State farmers and the sheep raisers from other states will find it most interesting to compare the South American breeds with those of North America."

"It will surprise many to learn that the pavilions for animals at the Pan-American cover ten acres and are capable of housing 35,000 animals."

The programme for October so far as made up at this time is as follows:

Can Care For 250,000.

Director General Buchanan says the only problem now confronting the Exposition is how to find days enough within the closing weeks to adequately take care of the many attractions and features now being planned. He predicts a great attendance during the month of October and one far in excess of the highest estimates that have been made by the most sanguine. In answer to the inquiry as to whether or not Buffalo could take care of the crowds, he said there was no difficulty whatever in this regard; that Buffalo could easily care for 250,000 strangers every day comfortably and at reasonable prices.

In the Music Temple.

The organ recitals in the Temple of Music are daily features of the Pan-American Exposition. Many celebrated organists are on the programme for October. Victor Herbert's famous orchestra will be at the Temple of Music from Oct. 14 to the close of the Exposition.

A GIRL'S EVENING DRESS.

A Pretty Gown, Cost $1—How to Buy and How to Make It.

There has never been a time when simplicity has been held to be more adorable than at present—simplicity when utilized in connection with youth—says a writer in The New Idea Woman's Magazine in preface to the following little story of "A One Dollar Evening Gown."

One of the dearest girls in the world—she is my neighbor, and we are on rather familiar terms—has been obliged to refuse an invitation to a summer resort for a fortnight for the simple reason that she has nothing to wear for evening.

Now, a grown up woman who needs certain things according to the mode to fitly adorn her cannot imagine why a young girl with a fair face, bright eyes, a lithe figure and a general composite of youthful attractions must remain at home from an outing among even pretentious people simply because she has no evening gown. So we forthwith solved the problem.

No one knows better than a grown up woman that youth is the adornment of the gown—not the gown the sole adornment of youth. This last is the foundation of the proposition of an evening dress for the sum of $1. When my neighbor goes away, she will pack in her trunk among all the girlish attire two muslin gowns, each one of which cost not more than the trifling sum mentioned—gowns which she made with her own hands and in which she will appear at the evening dances.

One of the gowns in question is a white dimity, having a tiny polka dot of red. The dimity cost 7 cents a yard and ten yards were required. The red was selected because it belonged with her special type, which is dark hair and eyes and a complexion to correspond. Yellow would have looked equally well perhaps, but we chose the red because it is her favorite color. We had a choice of printed batiste at 6 cents and also of cotton crepon at the same price.

The first thing to be considered in this gown is the petticoat to be worn with it. It must be a trained skirt of exactly the same length as the outer skirt, so as to give the latter sufficient body to hang just right. Fortunately she possessed such a skirt; but even if she had not we should have pieced down one to make it do, or we should have applied a circular trimmed flounce of muslin to an ordinary petticoat.

Then came the dress skirt. It was a simple affair with a demitrain and trimmed with a circular flounce. We bought some baby ribbon at a cent a yard, to sew on the edge of the flounce; but even if we had had no ribbon the gown would have passed muster. Of course the ribbon improved it.

The waist was the simplest affair imaginable. We cut it from an ordinary waist pattern, allowing extra goods in the back and front by laying a fold in the goods before placing the pattern and then rounding out the neck in a semicircular fashion. There was no lining in the waist, merely a ribbon ruching around the neck. The sleeve was simplicity itself, a mere cap of a sleeve made to fit the shoulder closely. The sleeve might have been made in a puff, but the severe sleeve was the choice of this particular girl. An elbow sleeve is also appropriate. We had 30 cents left with which to purchase the ribbon.

My neighbor plans to wear a white silk sash with this gown, because she has the sash, but a belt of red ribbon would answer every purpose.

The other gown is a cheap dotted muslin in white and also cost 7 cents a yard. It is a reproduction of the first gown in style of making, with the exception of the puffed sleeve and a change of color in the ribbons.

Notes From the Southern Jeweler.

Signet rings remain very popular. Watch fobs find more wearers every day.

The circular shape has great vogue in brooches.

Flower rings are an English idea of the "new art" variety.

Thumb ring purses are latest among the many clever novelties.

"All the rings on one hand only"—the left of course—is now the dictum.

An original notion is a necklace of rings threaded on to interlaced ribbons.

Brakes Needed For The Middle Aged

As one approaches the middle milestone in life he must adjust himself to changing conditions. He must then, if ever, realize the importance of elimination, OF EATING LESS AND WORKING LESS. In other words, as he advances along down the hill of life he should cultivate an ability to put on the brakes, be satisfied to do less work, but better work—indeed DO LESS OF EVERYTHING AND TRY TO DO IT BETTER.

By Dr. I. N. LOVE Of New York

You ask, When is the middle milestone reached? It varies in different individuals. It ranges from the fortieth to the sixtieth birthday. Some men by inheritance and others by habits of life have moved more rapidly than others toward this point. It has been said that a woman is as old as she looks and a man as old as he feels, but as a matter of fact both are as old as their arteries. In other words, the elasticity of their arteries and other parts of their structures is an expression of their youthfulness.

On general principles one at this time should make no radical change in the habits of living.

IT IS A GREAT MISTAKE TO ATTEMPT TO REDUCE RAPIDLY AN ACCUMULATION OF FAT WHICH IS THE RESULT OF YEARS OF EXCESSIVE EATING AND LACK OF PROPER EXERCISE.

A man of 50 should limit his diet to almost half what it was when he was 30 or during the growing period. He should drink large quantities of water, for water is the greatest eliminator of accumulating poisons. If you would wish to wash out the earthy materials which tend toward stiffness and brittleness of the arteries and joints, use the greatest solvent of earthy salts we have—namely, PURE WATER.

A judicious amount of exercise should be indulged in. Excessive athleticism is always objectionable to the young and the old as well. Free indulgence in walking out in the open air is excellent. The city streets will do for this. Horseback riding is good. All of these should be indulged temperately and the increase gradual.

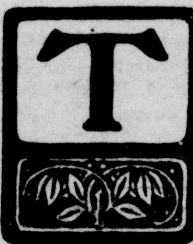

Temperance in all things is the great essential. Radical abstinence either in diet or drink is not called for, but I do believe that as we approach the middle of life the use of alcohol should be diminished rather than increased, and unless this can be done gracefully alcohol should be ruled out altogether.

A man as he approaches middle life needs some stimulant or nerve bracer. Probably tobacco, judiciously indulged, is the least harmful.

THE MENACE OF MORMONISM

By Mrs. ANNIE M'KEAN WHITE

THE Mormons control Utah absolutely. They have the balance of power under normal conditions in Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico. They have strong colonies in Oregon, California, Washington and Montana.

WHEN THE TIME ARRIVES, THEY WILL VIRTUALLY CONTROL ELEVEN STATES INSTEAD OF NINE, two less than necessary to enable them to prevent any constitutional amendment.

All they ask is for Christian America to remain indifferent several years. They will do the rest.

A movement for a constitutional amendment should have been made immediately following the Roberts controversy, but the interdenominational council of women is now working for this end, and this fall the active campaign will begin. It will be waged by Christian American women stronger than the warfare against Roberts.

Congress must act in the coming session, and the polygamy question will then be settled forever.

SHOULD CONGRESS SHIRK THEN ONLY A FIERCE RELIGIOUS WAR WILL WIPE FROM AMERICAN LIFE THIS INFAMOUS STAIN WHICH IS THROWN UP TO OUR MISSIONARIES IN CHINA AND INDIA.

Hawaiian Islands Come High, But Are Worth the Price

By W. F. MACLENNAN, Of the U. S. Treasury Department.

FROM what I saw, the Hawaiian Islands will cost the United States a vast sum of money before they are completely Americanized. American institutions, while making rapid inroads, are not yet as thoroughly established as they might be, but of course it requires time for such developments, and altogether the progress made in this direction is satisfactory.

While Hawaii will cost this government a great amount of money, there is everything to lead to the belief that we will receive in return equal benefit in one form or another as an inevitable result.

The sugar raising industry in the islands is pursued with remarkable profit. It is estimated that some of the plantations there yield an annual gain of 80 per cent, while very few pay their owners less than 20 per cent. This is an enormous rate of profit—so great, in fact, that almost every bit of available land is utilized in sugar raising. The result is that very little territory is left for the production of other necessities.

IT IS A REMARKABLE BUT NONE THE LESS ACTUAL FACT THAT ALMOST EVERYTHING THAT IS USED UPON THE HAWAIIAN DINING TABLE IS PRODUCED IN THE UNITED STATES.

They Never Fail.

much care for the comfort of the visitor, so much. All exhibit buildings are free, including the Stadium, the great amphitheater, the art gallery, state buildings, and never was so much given for so little.

The gorgeous pyrotechnics—and no exposition has ever been so lavish in the display of fireworks—are free to all Exposition visitors. The programme provided by Pain in October includes the magnificent water carnival with gorgeous ballet, wonderful figures in liquid fire, and aerial bombs and rockets of startling beauty and mystifying construction.

To the millions interested in agriculture, stock and poultry rearing, the Pan-American Exposition especially appeals. The cattle show was a tremendous success and the sheep show.

ECLIPSE EASILY BEAT AT BASEBALL

PLAYERS NOT ALL THERE

And Those Who Took Part in the Contest Not All in Good Form—A Series of Games for a Purse Is Now Proposed.

After having scored six runs in the opening inning the East Liverpool team received a wallop at the hands of the Eclipse yesterday afternoon in the benefit game played at West End park. Though marked by errors in great abundance, the game was considerably interesting, several good and timely plays being mixed in with the bad ones.

The result of the game was a surprise to nearly all of the spectators, who expected to see the Eclipse go down to easy defeat. Ashbaugh, though batted somewhat hard at the beginning, pitched a very creditable game and kept the hits so well scattered that the East Liverpool players were unable to do anything after the first inning. May, formerly with the Monaca team, caught for the Eclipse and his playing was perhaps the leading feature of the game. He did some very clever work and was liberally applauded.

Barker and C. Davis composed the battery for East Liverpool, and though he received some very poor backing from other members of the team, Barker had every reason to become disgusted with the miserable work behind the bat which Davis put up. He certainly had a day off, as he never caught a worse game this season—which is saying a great deal. C. Reark, Godwin and McNicol were absent and "Happy" Reark was placed at short, "Doc" Howard at second and Stillwell in the field. Reark had a bad bunch of errors, but as he has had no practice this season, nothing else could have been expected. Howard at second played a fairly good game, though he made one throw to first that was a corker. Other errors were piled up, the most of which were costly, and Barker became wearied almost at the start.

With the East Liverpool first to bat the game started. Rising began on Ashbaugh by smashing out a three-bagger and later scored on C. Davis' hit for a base. Bad throwing in which Ashbaugh sent wide ones over to both first and second bases in an effort to head off runners, allowed his opponents easy chances for reaching home. Before the side could be retired six runs had been secured.

Confident of easy victory the East Liverpool players took the field, but before they again came to bat the Eclipse had scored three times. With determination to slaughter the ball the "big" team began to pound wildly at Ashbaugh's curves, but the second and third innings passed and they failed to do anything. In their half of the third the Eclipse scored one run, and in the fifth tied the score by making two more. This was when the spectators expected the East Liverpool to do something, but they didn't.

It was in the eighth when matters began to look dubious and hope weakened. The Eclipse went after the ball in this inning with renewed energy and before its close four more runs had been added to the already long list. Another was scored in the seventh and two more in the eighth, making the total of 13. The East Liverpool continued to wield the willow in a fruitless attempt to drive the ball up into the clouds, but at the end of the ninth inning they had not added a single score to those of the first inning.

It is unfair to say that it was the East Liverpool team that was beaten. With three players off any team it makes a difference so great that it would hardly be fair to call it the regular team, when others out of practice are substituted and placed at important positions. On the other hand the Eclipse was greatly strengthened by Catcher May. However, the game proved that the Eclipse can give the East Liverpool team, with all of its players, a mighty good run for its money. There is already talk of a series of games between the teams on each of which $100 is to be staked. The contests would be certain of being hard fought, and would doubtless draw a large patronage.

The official score follows:

Rising, 1	1	2	1	0	0
C. Davis, c	1	2	3	4	0
Parker, p	0	1	1	5	1

Stowaway Well Presented.
"The Stowaway," a five-act comedy drama, was presented to a large and appreciative audience at the Grand last night, and little Irene Myers and the rest of the cast upheld their high reputation to the satisfaction of all. The specialties between the acts were the subjects of many warm encores. Tonight the company presents "New York Day by Day" with an entire change of program and special scenery. Little Irene will take the part of the newsboy and this is considered one of the best of their sensational comedy dramas represented.

LONDON OPINION

Upon McKinley's Last Speech at Buffalo Exposition.

TRADE SUPREMACY OF THE WORLD

Nothing Less Is the Legitimate Outcome of the Policy Advocated by Both Him and President Roosevelt.

"The conviction reflected in his (Mr. McKinley's) Buffalo speech that the mission of America is to achieve the trade supremacy of the world," is its interpretation by the London Daily Telegraph. This is made in an editorial of length, which says that this "was recognized at once as the most remarkable speech of his life. In the United States it was the most admired. For the remainder of the world it was incomparably the most significant. Had the outrage not occurred within twenty-four hours of its delivery the press of every country would have been full of it." Other advices confirm this judgment upon the president's address of the great London organ of English Liberalism. They say that later an almost complete report of the address was printed in some of the London newspapers, and that the circumstances of its delivery and that it was the president's last word to the world, caused it to be read very carefully. The statesmen and thinkers of Great Britain are quoted as of the opinion, from their study of it and of the circumstances which gave rise to it, that "there is apparently nothing that Great Britain, or any other nation of the earth, can do to prevent the rapid advance of the United States to a position of pre-eminence among the world powers, both political and financial, as well as commercial."

The London Telegraph editorially speaks of the Buffalo speech as the answer to an historic question that the old world has been asking itself "from the Declaration of Independence up to yesterday" without definite reply, and that is, "what America might mean?" President McKinley's address fixes, in the thought of the world the fact that the people of the United States "are citizens of a country which has attained the highest level of average prosperity that the world has ever seen. Their commercial strength is more invulnerable at home and more irresistible abroad than that of any other nation. They have greater opportunities and fewer burdens, head for head, than have Englishmen or Germans. No external enemy can ever break the mainsprings of their power or their trade. They have indefinite room to multiply within their own frontiers, and increase of total population may go hand in hand for many years with enhancement of individual comfort." This is the testimony of the great London newspaper to the results brought about in America by the policies that McKinley had supported throughout his life. His speech made plain the triumph of the political principles he had advocated without flinching from first to last.

That speech also opened the door and pointed the way for the next steps of progress to be taken in American development and prosperity. President Roosevelt at Minneapolis four days before announced the same doctrine, so that in sustaining him the way that McKinley pointed out will be followed. As the London Telegraph says, "It is obvious that the crime, which has since occurred, can only add enormously to the influence of the orator at Buffalo, and must insure the historical effect of that utterance." That journal very luminously interprets President McKinley's purpose by pointing out that the adoption of his recommendations "will mean an increase in the volume of United States commerce both ways, and the completion of the gigantic business apparatus by the revival of her shipping. Reciprocity is advocated, as exclusiveness was maintained, not upon grounds of principle but upon those of expediency. It is a different method, admirably designed to promote more effectively the former purposes, and it means the real beginning of the struggle for that industrial, commercial, and financial primacy of the world which America seems marked out to attain."

With McKinley then, as with Roosevelt now, this meant that these results should be secured in an American way for the benefit of Americans. Both stood squarely upon the Republican national platform of 1900 that made protection and reciprocity parts of the same general purpose, committing the country to the advanced policy as the fulfillment and outgrowth of the older policy. As McKinley said at New York in 1894, when we conquer the home markets, as now has been done under his policies and administration, that will be used as a stepping stone and point of advance to control the commerce of the world. Where will Ohio stand in the fulfillment of this program of our martyred president?

The tariff has vastly lowered the cost of living in the United States. We are buying four times as much from Germany as we did some years ago. It is not we but the German farm owners who want to make our food dear to the poor German laborers.

ECLIPSE EASILY BEAT AT BASEBALL

PLAYERS NOT ALL THERE

After having scored six runs in the opening inning the East Liverpool team received a walloping at the hands of the Eclipse yesterday afternoon in the benefit game played at West End park. Though marked by errors in great abundance, the game was considerably interesting, several good and timely plays being mixed in with the bad ones.

The result of the game was a surprise to nearly all of the spectators, who expected to see the Eclipse go down to easy defeat. Ashbaugh, though batted somewhat hard at the beginning, pitched a very creditable game and kept the hits so well scattered that the East Liverpool players were unable to do anything after the first inning. May, formerly with the Monaca team, caught for the Eclipse and his playing was perhaps the leading feature of the game. He did some very clever work and was liberally applauded.

Barker and C. Davis composed the battery for East Liverpool, and though he received some very poor backing from other members of the team, Barker had every reason to become disgusted with the miserable work behind the bat which Davis put up. He certainly had a day off, as he never caught a worse game this season—which is saying a great deal. C. Reark, Godwin and McNicol were absent and "Happy" Reark was placed at short. "Doc" Howard at second and Stillwell in the field. Reark had a bad bunch of errors, but as he has had no practice this season, nothing else could have been expected. Howard at second played a fairly good game, though he made one throw to first that was a corker. Other errors were piled up, the most of which were costly, and Barker became wearied almost at the start.

With the East Liverpoolers first to bat the game started. Rising began on Ashbaugh by smashing out a three-bagger and later scored on C. Davis' hit for a base. Bad throwing in which Ashbaugh sent wide ones over to both first and second bases in an effort to head off runners, allowed his opponents easy chances for reaching home. Before the side could be retired six runs had been secured. Confident of easy victory the East Liverpool players took the field, but before they again came to bat the Eclipse had scored three times. With determination to slaughter the ball the "big" team began to pound wildly at Ashbaugh's curves, but the second and third innings passed and they failed to do anything. In their half of the third the Eclipse scored one run, and in the fifth tied the score by making two more. This was when the spectators expected the East Liverpoolers to do something, but they didn't.

It was in the eighth when matters began to look dubious and hope weakened. The Eclipse went after the ball in this inning with renewed energy, and before its close four more runs had been added to the already long list. Another was scored in the seventh and two more in the eighth, making the total of 13. The East Liverpoolers continued to wield the willow in a fruitless attempt to drive the ball up into the clouds, but at the end of the ninth inning they had not added a single score to those of the first inning.

It is unfair to say that it was the East Liverpool team that was beaten. With three players off any team it makes a difference so great that it would hardly be fair to call it the regular team, when others out of practice are substituted and placed at important positions. On the other hand the Eclipse was greatly strengthened by Catcher May. However, the game proved that the Eclipse can give the East Liverpool team, with all of its players, a mighty good run for its money. There is already talk of a series of games between the teams on each of which $100 is to be staked. The contests would be certain of being hard fought, and would doubtless draw a large patronage.

TRADE SUPREMACY OF THE WORLD

Nothing Less Is the Legitimate Outcome of the Policy Advocated by Both Him and President Roosevelt.

"The conviction reflected in his (Mr. McKinley's) Buffalo speech that the mission of America is to achieve the trade supremacy of the world," is its interpretation by the London Daily Telegraph. This is made in an editorial of length, which says that this "was recognized at once as the most remarkable speech of his life. In the United States it was the most admired. This is the testimony of the great London newspaper to the results brought about in America by the policies that McKinley had supported throughout his life. His speech made plain the triumph of the political principles he had advocated without flinching from first to last.

That speech also opened the door and pointed the way for the next steps of progress to be taken in American development and prosperity. President Roosevelt at Minneapolis four days before announced the same doctrine, so that in sustaining him the way that McKinley pointed out will be followed. As the London Telegraph says, "It is obvious that the crime, which has since occurred, can only add enormously to the influence of the orator at Buffalo, and must insure the historical effect of that utterance." That journal very luminously interprets President McKinley's purpose by pointing out that the adoption of his recommendations "will mean an increase in the volume of United States commerce both ways, and the completion of the gigantic business apparatus by the revival of her shipping.
